Gifts of Empowerment for Personal Growth and Excellence

Dear Friend,

I'm excited about this catalog, and I hope you enjoy it. Much is new.

First, you'll discover an array of exciting and important new products (many pictured in color). Please check out pages 4, 5, 8-10, 18, 69 and 78-79.

Next, you'll find that the catalog is, hopefully, much easier to use despite its size. An expanded Table of Contents and an Index (page 73) should make it easier to find what you're looking for. They're supported by an expanded Tape & CD Index (page 6), our color New Products Showcase (pages 4-5), and the color section "Where To Begin" (pages 78-79).

Finally, you'll notice short articles inside on subjects like "Stillness," "Life Energy," "The 'Other 90%' of Your Brain," and "Waking Up the Body's Intelligence." These give us a chance to speak personally about why we find our products so inspiring, instead of just talking about the "facts."

Tools For Exploration is a company that cares, and everyone here keeps trying to do his or her job better and better. We hope our dedication to service comes through to you!

Thanks for giving us a chance to do a job we love.

Sincerely,

Terry Patten

What Is Tools For Exploration?

How We Got Started

In 1988, Terry and Leslie Patten published the book Biocircuits. They founded Tools For Exploration the same year to build and sell these otherwise hard-to-find products. The early customers shared their excitement about other new tools for growth, and in response, the first Tools For Exploration catalog was published in 1989. The home-based business has expanded to a modest office in San Rafael, California and now employs 12 full- and part-time people.

What We Do

Tools For Exploration distributes over 1000 unique products throughout the U.S. and worldwide. Most of these products are unusual and hard to find, but some are widely known. We also manufacture BioCircuit™ products. Our clientele consists primarily of individuals. However, we are rapidly expanding our distribution to retail stores and practitioners. Our catalogs are our only "store."

Our Purpose

We think of ourselves as a complete source of the most advanced, most interesting and most valuable tools available for people who are, in various ways, exploring the full potential of their brains, their minds, their bodies and their life-energy. Thus, we support and respect our customers as "explorers." We respect the importance of our customers consulting professionals, particularly medical doctors, but we also take pride in serving people as they take more responsibility for their own growth and well-being, not merely being dependent on authorities.

Our Commitment

We care about our relationship with each individual we serve. We believe in the value of the products we sell. We try to bring those commitments together to provide a kind of service that was never available until our company came into being.

Our Guarantees

Low-Price Guarantee: If you see any product you buy from us advertised at a lower price within 30 days of your purchase, send us the ad with your invoice. We'll refund you the difference!

Satisfaction Guarantee: If for any reason you are not satisfied with a purchase, return it in like-new condition within 30 days. We will refund your purchase price (minus a 15% processing charge) or apply a credit towards another purchase. Books, audio and video tapes, computer software, foods, and custom-made products are not returnable unless defective or otherwise noted. Return any defective merchandise for a prompt replacement.

A NEW ART FORM: THE SOUNDS PLAY YOU

In the summer of 1859, the composer Louis Moreau Gottshalk moved a piano onto the terrace of his house in the jungles of Guadalupe and there, every evening, played wonderful music for — as he said — "myself alone."

There is something incredibly romantic about churning out symphonies in the middle of the rain forest, and, as Gottshalk himself acknowledged, something intensely profound and pleasurable. On those blue tropical nights, Louis Moreau became music: both creator and solitary listener, he was pure, triumphant sound.

Becoming the Experience

We'd like to introduce you to a different kind of music — to twentieth-century, technologically sophisticated harmonies that are not, after all, so very far removed from Louis Moreau's arpeggios. Listening to this new music can be a subtle and joyous experience, one in which you are more than a listener.

These audiocassettes and CDs have been designed to be effective not on an intellectual level but on the rich, varied, and intensely complex level of consciousness itself. You become, in effect, the instrument on which the sound is played. Each harmonic shift is a shift in consciousness, each full chord a rousing or deepening of awareness.

And like the great music of the past, these tapes and CDs can be transforming. You might not find yourself humming the tunes in the shower, but you may notice changes in your moods, your behavior, your general sense of well-being, and how you feel about yourself.

With a Purpose in Mind

The uses to which the new music can be put range from the playful to the sublime — from overcoming insomnia to unleashing creativity and exploring spirituality. This "music" does not flow from a musician's pen, but from the insights of psychologists, hypnotherapists, and other enlightened healers.

Combining highly sophisticated techniques like sonic brain-entrainment with the latest neuroscientific advances, these "different drummers" have created what is indeed a new art form. Welcome to the twentieth century, Louis Moreau.

So as not to leave you entirely on your own, in each category of tapes and CDs we have marked one or more titles with this symbol ★ to indicate that it is an excellent way to "taste" the family of tapes to which it belongs.

Tapes and CDs can be found on pages 7-28, 33, 36, 42-43, 45, 51, 54 & 76

Magical Mind, Magical Body:
Mastering the Mind/Body Connection for Perfect Health and Total Well-Being

"Your mind is not only in your brain, but in every cell of your body." Dr. Deepak Chopra uses research from the cutting edge of medical science and quantum physics to prove his point.

By changing your thoughts, you can actually help change your body — for the better! Then, in turn, your "new" body can act on your mind to increase health, and reinforce a degree of self-realization and personal development that you never thought possible.

With Chopra's insights and assistance, you'll learn how to take control of your own well-being. You'll discover new ways to reduce stress and improve the quality of your sleep.

On these tapes you'll hear Deepak Chopra prove what many great medical thinkers have long believed — that human thought and proper mental and spiritual practices have the power to dramatically benefit our physical health and the quality of our lives.

About Deepak Chopra, M.D.

Deepak Chopra is a man worth meeting — clear, articulate, and deeply sincere. His own remarkable story is a journey from a traditional Hindu childhood in India to training as an M.D. and an endocrinologist in the United States, eventually becoming Chief of Staff of New England Memorial Hospital. Today he is one of the most recognized experts on traditional Indian Ayurvedic Medicine.

I first encountered Dr. Chopra as a little-known scientific spokesman for Transcendental Meditation. Over the past ten years, he has become a popular author and speaker, and his books have become bestsellers in their field.

Why? Chopra understands how health and healing relate to spirituality, and he gets it across so lucidly, so personally, that he really connects with others. You'll enjoy this gifted, humble and wise communicator.

He helps you get in tune with your body's needs, so you can correct the imbalances that may be at the root of your weight problems. He helps you discover which body type you are — so you can determine what kinds of foods to eat and what kinds to avoid. By Robert B. Stone, Ph.D.

An important progenitor of many of the technologies you see in this catalog! Since the late '60s the Silva Method has taught people to enter deep alpha/theta states and liberate intuitive powers they never knew they had. The Silva Method can be applied to improve memory, learning, problem solving, stress reduction, and ESP abilities.

Longtime Silva expert Robert Stone lectures on the theory of the Silva Method and how to use it; and Jose and Laura Silva take you through a step-by-step program of exercises and guided visualizations.

Mind-Expanding Sounds & Music

BRAIN/MIND RESEARCH

Brain/Mind Research (BMR) combines the talents of Dr. Jeffrey Thompson, Richard Stamper and Ed Smith to produce the innovative musical audio tapes of Jeffrey Thompson, NASA Voyager recordings from space, and the Psycho-Sensory Integration (PSI) Tape Series.

For over 10 years BMR has researched the use of sound to influence self-improvement and relaxation states, resulting in many unique techniques. For instance, BMR has designed a 12-point delivery system for building pulse rate frequencies into every sound on a tape. They use an electronic 3-D sound processor which can place sound in any position in 3-D space as well as a patented 3-D microphone system.

BMR audiotapes are top quality audiophile recordings. Each tape is digitally produced, recorded directly to highest quality audio magnetic tape stock. Some tapes are recorded on one side only to avoid unwanted "crosstalk."

Dr. Jeffrey Thompson

How did we find out about Jeffrey Thompson's tapes? The proprietor of our local brain fitness center told us, "It's a damn good brain machine for $12.98" — and we got The Egg of Time. Everybody loved it.

Dr. Jeffrey Thompson is a trailblazer — both an original creative artist and important sound researcher. His work involves the use of primordial sounds — sounds recognized by the deep subconscious and capable of triggering profound responses. These tapes combine intriguing music with brainwave frequency patterns and primordial sounds (water, heartbeats, dolphin clicks, planetary sounds, and sacred instruments from Tibet and Japan) to enhance subconscious change, insight, relaxation and the feeling of energy.

- Advanced sounds and production techniques create effects that can go directly to your subconscious

NASA Voyager Space Tapes

Richard Stamper was the first to recognize the profound resonances of the electromagnetic vibrational patterns recorded by the NASA Voyager I & II space probes as they passed the outer planets of our solar system. Played through speakers, these electromagnetic vibrations form haunting 3-D "soundscapes" reminiscent of human singing, Tibetan bowls, wind, waves, birds, nighttime insects and dolphins, and produce a deeply consciousness-expanding, out-of-this-world experience. According to Jeffrey Thompson, how these tapes make you feel is more important than how they sound.

Neurosonics

RICHARD BANDLER

"NLP could be the most important synthesis of knowledge about human communication to emerge." — Science Digest

These Brilliantly Imaginative Audio Journeys Can Help You Activate Powerful Inner Resources and Rediscover Your Passion for Living

Richard Bandler, Ph.D., is the co-creator of Neuro-Linguistic Programming™, the science of how to create change in the conscious and other-than-conscious mind.

Since creating NLP, Bandler's creativity has moved onward on two major fronts. The first is his advanced developments of the technologies embodied in NLP, which he calls "Design Human Engineering." The second is "Neurosonics," which adds sounds and music to the vocabulary through which he helps the listener learn to mobilize all the positive resources of his or her neurology.

Neurosonics tapes were first produced in late 1990 when Dr. Bandler joined forces with another creative genius, Denver Clay. Bandler's new Neurosonics audiotapes combine the technologies of NLP, Design Human Engineering and Neurosonics to bring about revolutionary changes in the listener.

Although each tape is different, they all will surround you with music, sounds, and voices — all designed to affect your future in a way that has never been done before. It is a revolutionary chemistry with a unique sound, described by Bandler himself as "new-age rap music." It combines Dr. Bandler's skills in hypnotic communication with his unsurpassed knowledge and experience of how humans learn and change and his and Denver Clay's artistry as musicians and composers.

Bandler is a compelling and unique vocalist. As a gravel-voiced rock singer, entertainer and showman and at the same time an astoundingly skilled and learned Ph.D. psychologist, he demonstrates his uncanny grasp of internal processes with warmth and delicacy. Listening to these tapes can be a dynamic, supercharging experience.

*The Personal Enhancement Series

"Neurosonics is an incredibly effective and enjoyable way to access more of the true potential of your brain." — Anthony Robbins

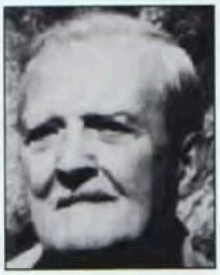
Tapes For Change

A revolution has transformed Western hypnosis over the past 50 years. Earlier in this century, hypnosis had been pushed to the fringe of mainstream scientific circles, and was in danger of being relegated to the status of a vaudeville act and psychological curiosity. Today, it is widely accepted and ranks as one of the most dynamic fields in psychology. Contemporary practitioners can proudly claim that they possess profoundly powerful "technologies for personal change."

The Legacy of Dr. Milton H. Erickson



In this time the field has been transformed by a number of important innovators, but no single individual is more responsible for this transformation than Dr. Milton H. Erickson, the pioneering intuitive genius of modern hypnosis. However, "Ericksonian" Hypnosis is taught only to professionals. Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP), developed by Bandler and Grinder via Erickson's inspiration, is a complex system of specific subconscious communication techniques which can take years to master.

The audiocassette tapes on these pages put Erickson's magic within the reach of any interested consumer. They are produced by practicing professionals and educators who claim that using these tapes can teach people how to achieve major lasting positive changes in their lives with Ericksonian and NLP techniques for engineering subconscious changes.

Using Confusion to Our Advantage

The specific intention of these "dual induction" tapes is to teach Erickson's "confusion" technique which bypasses conscious resistance to transformative suggestions. Erickson himself didn't use dual inductions, which are only possible via tapes (or using two hypnotherapists!), but it has arisen among "Ericksonian" and NLP practitioners (who trace their

Magical Stories That Change Lives

HPP: HYPNO-PERIPHERAL PROCESSING™

Everyone loves a fairy-tale, and the ones you hear from Dr. Lloyd Glauberman are twice as fantastic and full of far more surprises than any others you may have heard. Except you probably won't remember your incredible adventure! He tells you two stories simultaneously — one in each ear — and the best surprise in the stories may be the change you feel taking place in you. While you learn to relax to playfully mysterious musical sounds, he treats you to a double version of a timeless, myth-like saga about someone who leaves the stream of ordinary life for a fantastic adventure and returns a changed person.

I've tried hard to follow both stories, but never have I lasted more than about five minutes. Your conscious mind quickly learns to give up trying to make sense of the two messages, and you enter a trance for the duration of your listening experience. You emerge 30 minutes later to notice amazing changes in your feelings and behavior, all carefully "planted" in your subconscious. And you thought you were just hearing a story!

Dr. Glauberman originally developed these tapes for use with flotation tanks. He quickly realized that with nothing more elaborate than headphones, people can get profound results. These tapes have been evaluated by researchers such as Thomas Budzynski and Julian Isaacs, and their value has been confirmed time and again. They are one of the most powerful technologies available for teaching hard-to-entrain Theta brainwave states of consciousness. These painstakingly crafted tapes get strong enthusiastic responses from almost everyone who hears them!

The first seven (excellent) HPP tapes (the single tapes) were produced by Glauberman in tandem with Dr. Philip Halboth. Since then, Dr. Glauberman has produced double cassette albums by himself, incorporating continuing improvements in production values and subtlety.

- Learn to effect profound changes in consciousness AND your behavior

Awaken the Magical Resources Within You

THE CHANGEWORKS

Changeworks tapes have been called "the Rolls Royce of hypnosis training tapes." Most of them begin with a man's or woman's voice inviting you to take a break and get into a comfortable position. But soon you hear Tom Condon talking in one ear and Carol Erickson in the other, each pretty much talking about the same subject — trees, for instance, or a big nice house. You hear two animated, poetic monologues, spoken in a relaxing and intimate fashion, as though you are overhearing two people talking to a close friend about something they really enjoy considering. And they keep expanding on that conversation in amusing new ways all through the program. Except you dropped deep into a trance soon after they began. The next thing you knew the tape was over! But you're feeling more relaxed and confident, creative, intuitive, or maybe humorous.

The Changeworks tapes are packaged beautifully and priced very reasonably. Condon and Erickson have soothing, intriguing and soft conversations — listening to them feels good! And even if you fall asleep, you can learn to wake up in a positive state, feeling mysteriously connected to new resources.

- Powerful yet gentle Ericksonian technique that respects you, the listener
- Internal participation awakens your latent power for positive change
- Packed with life-like details that maintain interest over repeated listenings

roots to Erickson), and it certainly fits his definition of his own technique:

". . . the presentation to the subjects of a series of seemingly but only loosely related ideas actually based upon a significant thread of continuity not readily recognized, leading to an increasing divergence of associations . . . all of which preclude subjects from developing any one train of association, yet stirs them increasingly to need to do something until they are ready to accept the first clear-cut definitive suggestion offered."

One (perhaps apocryphal) account credits the original inspiration for the dual-induction technique to Don Juan and Don Genaro, who changed the consciousness of Carlos Castaneda in one of his books by squatting on either side of him and talking in both of his ears simultaneously.

Whatever the original inspiration, each of these families of dual-induction tapes teach how to thwart the mind's attempt to follow the "sense" of what's spoken, working upon the subconscious mind by bypassing consciousness. To some extent they share a common language and represent a new area of technology. But each series is a unique creative attempt, expressing different areas of emphasis and excellence, a distinct personality and artistic style. All three of these series embody a great deal of technical accomplishment.

Hypno-Peripheral Processing

To produce his Hypno-Peripheral Processing (HPP) tapes (listed on p. 13) Dr. Lloyd Glauberman precisely coordinates the scripts spoken into the left and right ears so that they frequently converge, producing peripherally perceived suggestions which the subconscious mind learns to willingly accept. This painstaking process allows him to deliver about fifty unnoticed subconscious cues — the key to the HPP tapes' effectiveness. Something I appreciate: Dr. Glauberman gets right down to business with short introductions. His tapes work, and they suit my busy life.

It is difficult to compare and contrast individual titles among the HPP tapes, because when I listen to them I consistently go into trance. Glauberman himself is particularly proud of two double-cassette albums, Personal Ecology and The Quest for Excellence, both of which I like very much. There is something unique and enjoyable about the single cassettes, which feature Halboth in one ear and Glauberman in the other. Time Management and Creativity is one especially good selection.

Changeworks

Reflecting on the Changeworks series (described on p. 14) Tom Condon says he is not trying to tell stories but instead is working with "embedded metaphor" to build "environments which operate on as many levels as possible." I asked him about the widespread idea of "reprogramming the subconscious," and he objected that it "doesn't adequately address the complexity of human beings. Reprogramming requires permission on a variety of levels. It's not even advisable to cancel internal psychological programs and replace them with new ones on an audio tape. You don't know what place the program has in the ground of the person's life . . . On a tape you need to offer enough levels of meaning, enough choices to allow for almost any contingency. You need to allow many optional ways to respond to the metaphors offered. The mind is not a computer."

The whole Changeworks series deserves to be explored. I can particularly recommend Natural Self-Confidence (it's a beautiful, multidimensional, technically exquisite achievement!) and The Expanded Intuition Series.

Paraliminals

The feeling of the Paraliminal tapes (described on p. 15) is unique; compared to the other tapes reviewed here, they're direct and to the point. The HPP tapes engender a journey that feels vast and more fantastic, and the Changeworks tape experiences feel more intense and multi-layered. The Paraliminal tapes, on the other hand, don't fool around; they make a relaxed, uncomplicated beeline toward their stated purpose. Scheele's approach is unique in another way also. The NLP exercises on the right track of the tape are usable separately from the left track: turn the balance knob all the way to the right and the tapes can be used to engender a behavior-changing NLP reframing exercise.

Which Paraliminal tapes are the best? It's a personal matter. I particularly enjoyed the unique, refreshing 10-Minute Supercharger (It works!) and the excellent, rich New Behavior Generator. — TP

Masterful Whole-Brain Linguistics For Real Life Changes

PARALIMINAL TAPES

These are some of the most intelligent, carefully produced tapes we've seen. Many of America's most successful corporations use them to enhance the performance of their key executives. Paul R. Scheele, developer of Paraliminal Tapes, has university degrees in psychology, biology and adult learning. His tapes are based on the most advanced research in NLP, Whole Brain Linguistics, and hypnotic learning.

In most of his Paraliminal Tapes, Paul Scheele begins his lesson by offering a hypnotic induction to both ears. Soon, however, music begins, and a series of gentle, barely perceptible transitions eases you into the heart of the tape, where you are listening to two voices at once (both Scheele's). The right ear (which is linked to the brain's more linear left hemisphere) hears step-by-step hypnotic instruction, while the left ear (linked to the intuitive, spatially-oriented right hemisphere) hears a metaphorical story. The inspirational music "anchors" the messages. The two tracks reach different aspects of your being, and their combined effect is to move you wholly and strongly in the desired direction. At times the two tracks converge, the left voice finishing a sentence or an idea begun by the right, or vice-versa. Your subconscious lights up with the message!

From the Academy for Guided Imagery:

Imagery is one of the most powerful, yet least utilized healing resources available. Imagery can be helpful for almost any problem — from psychological problems such as depression and anxiety to medical problems like chronic pain, allergies, and even life-threatening illnesses. By imagining health, we naturally affect the neurochemistry of our bodies, thereby in many cases creating health.

The Academy for Guided Imagery teaches doctors, psychologists and other health professionals the practical skills that can evoke patients' inner potential for growth and healing. The following books and tapes were created by the Academy and its co-directors, Dr. Martin Rossman and Dr. David Bresler, as a way to make these powerful techniques available to individuals as well as practitioners.

WAKING UP THE BODY'S INTELLIGENCE

It's nearly sunset when you finally push the canoe into the lake. The water shines with autumn light. You begin to row, slowly at first, dragging the waves into long, green ribbons. And then faster. And faster. Your muscles feel strong and light and elastic, your lungs inexhaustible.

When you find your rhythm, you and the boat become a single flashing arc.

You feel as if you could fly to the moon in that old canoe. You feel the energy crackling under the surface of your skin. You feel undeniably happy.

And it all feels so different from a few hours ago when the 5 P.M. gridlock had carved its way into your jaw and you had just polished off a week's supply of antacids.

Funny how things seem to change.

And interesting how health seems to reflect a state of being (mind, emotion, spirit) as much a state of the body. The mind can make us well or make us ill, kill or cure us. But "mind" is more than the brain; it is also a vast and universal intelligence that pervades every cell and atom in us.

We offer resources to help you awaken the healing intelligence of your entire body/ mind.

Accessing the Wisdom of Your Body

THE FOCUSING PROCESS

Have you ever felt anxiety drain out of your body? Lasting personal change is often accompanied by a "bodily shift." You can learn to pay attention to the body in a way that makes real change possible. Focusing is a learnable, step-by-step process for doing just that.

Studying Success

Focusing was developed by Dr. Eugene Gendlin based on research he did with Carl Rogers at the University of Chicago. Gendlin and his associates conducted a detailed review of hundreds of taped psychotherapy sessions and did detailed analysis of the clients' histories & outcomes, the types of therapy and therapists. This is what they found:

Some people changed meaningfully through therapy, and others did not. Therapists' behavior and their "school" of therapy didn't predict success. Neither did the original severity of the clients' problems. What clients did during the sessions, however, accurately predicted successful outcomes. Successful clients all did certain things. Gendlin isolated those behaviors, broke them down into steps, and developed a way to teach them. The result is called Focusing.

A Flexible, Universal Tool

Focusing is a universal understanding about personal change, not a therapeutic technique or a psychological school. It is tremendously adaptable as well. Focusing can be done alone, or with help. It can be done quickly (in as little as five minutes), or deeply, over a period of as long as an hour.

Focusing can be a simple, effective method for getting in touch with your feelings — to the point that you experience genuine change. Or Focusing can be a method for centering, solving practical problems, healing, growing spiritually, and even as a source of inspiration for artists and writers. In fact, in a recent article in Megabrain Report, Michael Hutchison suggested engaging in Focusing while using Mind Machines!

HEALING MUSIC FROM MARCEY — NOW ON CD!

Recovering from a debilitating automobile accident changed Marcey Hamm's life, putting her in touch with energies and sources of inspiration she had never before experienced. Soon after her recovery she went into her home studio to record some meditation music for a friend.

"All of a sudden I felt like someone had pulled the planet from beneath me and I was falling continuously for 30 minutes. I remember very little of actually composing the music," Marcey admits. "I never heard it, but I could feel it deep inside of me as if it were in my cells — I became the music."

She first put this music before the public at a Dallas metaphysical fair where she offered the public a chance to hear it through headphones. Her first potential customer turned white as a sheet when he heard the music. "Young lady, I want you to know that several years ago I had a heart attack in the hospital and was pronounced dead for 16 minutes. While I was dead, I left my body and went through a tunnel of light. The music I heard towards the end of the tunnel was the same music you were playing on those headphones."

In the months that followed, Marcey began hearing from people who were reporting sudden, almost miraculous, spontaneous feelings of well-being while listening to her tape. The outpouring of response inspired her to return to her own deepest level of consciousness and to the recording studio. Her music comes from "a place of love," she says. "If it didn't make people feel good, I don't think I could do it, because it wouldn't make me feel good."

Listen One Hour Each Day for "Life-Changing" Effects

THE END® — A BEGINNING

Bill Harris and his colleagues at Centerpointe Research Institute talk about experiencing "the deepest altered states where quantum leaps in brain function bring incredible changes," including "faster release of self-defeating behaviors and childhood traumas, increased mental clarity, enhanced self-esteem, and an increased capacity for spontaneity and happiness." They offer it in a non-dogmatic format, compatible with any religious belief, meditation practice, or psychotherapeutic regime.

According to Bill, two things make The End a unique and powerful tool for evolutionary change: 1) Their program is multi-phased, each new level using progressively slower frequencies to take participants to "greater depths of mind expansion, growth, and super-awareness"; and 2) Centerpointe provides ongoing free support and follow-up to help participants integrate the shifts in awareness created by The End soundtracks.

When I first spoke to Bill, it didn't take long for me to realize that he was an expert on psychoactive sounds. A long-time meditator and student of psychology, Bill's interest was captured by the low, slow sound — delta-distanced binaural beats at extremely low frequencies. "Using these sounds regularly, consistently, day after day, very naturally provokes the brain to let go of deep limiting patterns."

The Introductory Package includes the powerful first album in the meditation series, AWAKENING: Prologue, a comprehensive 3-cassette package that includes telephone access to Centerpointe's support staff.

Quietude, a lovely, powerful deep relaxation tape; and

"I see in these people dramatic changes . . . They process much more quickly and more completely than my other clients, moving through in a couple of days — sometimes even a couple of hours — what ordinarily takes months to pass through . . . I only wish all my clients could be like those who are using this program."

Experience the Benefits of Peak Performance Brain States

BRAIN SYNC®

"These are great tapes! Whenever I have a patient that nothing works for, I get results with Kelly Howell's tapes."

— Margaret O. Smith, Biofeedback Professional, Charlotte Presbyterian Hospital, N. C.

We've all known those peak moments — the surge of energy, brilliant insight and intuitive certainty — that reconfirm or redirect the course of our lives. Now, with Kelly Howell's Brain Sync® tapes, those moments can be experienced consistently and reliably.

These remarkable tapes make use of harmonic superimposition of binaural beat frequencies. This sophisticated sound recording technique allows the mind to experience states of sympathetic resonance – like a crystal goblet vibrating in response to a pure tone. This helps create what some scientists call "hemispheric synchronization," allowing listeners to achieve specific altered and expanded states of consciousness.

Harmonic superimposition of binaural beats provides a way of combining a number of highly specific frequencies so that the binaural beats interact to create a third order of "harmonic" beat frequencies, resulting in powerful influences and highly specific states of consciousness. A special feature of these tapes is the use of window frequencies—highly specific frequencies that resonate precisely with narrow biological windows to act at the cellular level.

- No spoken messages, subliminals, or other verbal information
- Harmonics that enhance rapid changes of consciousness
- Pure tones that evoke the specific state you desire
- Audio techniques: Tones, music, harmonic superimposition of binaural beat frequencies

All single titles are $14.95:

★High Coherence For a "mind awake/body asleep" state, this tape combines multiple beat frequencies with resonating musical tones to lower you into the deepest, most expansive states of meditation and reverie. Window frequencies in the delta, theta, alpha, and beta ranges. (TS101)

★High Focus An ideal program to use while you work, to help create the "flow state" of lucid awareness, intense concentration and high energy. Combines high beta frequencies associated with cognition and alertness with Dr. Wolfgang Ludwig's "fire frequency." (TS106)

Total Relaxation For heightened powers of visualization, intuition and creativity as well as relaxation. A direct channel to most "peak experience" states of mind. Combines harmonically intertwined frequencies in the alpha range. (TS102)

Deep Insight Window frequencies help you access the mind's "information gateway" for learning or exploration. Theta frequencies induce the "twilight state" of those fleeting moments of peaceful lucidity between waking and sleep. (TS103)

Sound Sleep Window frequencies for improved, restorative sleep. Research indicates that large amounts of delta waves trigger the pituitary gland to release growth hormone, associated with natural regeneration and health. (TS104)

Brain Massage Relax mental tension, refresh and restore your bodymind, and cleanse yourself of negative thoughts and feelings. High beta and delta frequencies combined with the sounds of swirling, bubbling, clear, fresh water. (TS105)

Special: All Six Single Tapes (an $89.70 value) only $79.95 (TS201)

Brand New! Two-cassette sets for $39.95 each

Rich, resonant sound environments carefully orchestrated to stimulate your body's bioenergy centers. Each program delivers specific tones, drones, and chants that resonate with the seven chakras — each located near a major nerve plexus.

★Mind Flow The first tape, Deep Learning, guides you into the highly receptive theta state that opens new pathways to learning. Ground-breaking research reveals that theta brain wave activity can naturally trigger the formation of new, more complex connections between neurons. This is the key to memory and retention, speed learning, and cognition. Optimal Experience delivers specific window frequencies ranging from high beta down to delta. Allows you to consistently enter the peak performance state known as "Flow" — marked by moments of exhilaration, relaxed concentration, enhanced creativity, and timelessness.
2-tape set (TS251) $39.95

★Metamorphosis For evolving consciousness. Delivers a unique delta window frequency discovered in three separate scientific studies with long-term meditators who described their experiences as being "close to the angelic state." Bioenergy Balance tunes mind and body to the electrostatic energy field of the Earth. Resonates with the first three energy centers in your body, preparing you for Higher Resonance. The delta and theta window frequencies of the second tape guide you into a state of expanded awareness and heightened receptivity, while a subtle harmonic beat frequency in the beta range keeps you from drifting off to sleep. Instant access to higher energy octaves and transcendental brain states.
2-tape set (TS252) $39.95

"This is the best series of meditation tapes available in America today."

Unique Subliminals — Guaranteed Results

ALPHASONICS™

Many subliminals don't work at all. Most work only a little. New technology, however, has created tapes that do give results — dramatically and fast. So report two of the nation's leading authorities on subliminals, Drs. Lee and Joyce Shulman, authors of Subliminal: The New Channel to Personal Power. After conducting a thorough research project completely independent of Alphasonics, they chose these tapes for their clients and their own personal use.

Your unconscious habits of thought may be ALL THAT'S HOLDING YOU BACK from achieving many of your goals and desires. Effective subliminals bypass the conscious mind and DIRECTLY ADDRESS the subconscious mind.

- Unique multi-tracking technology
- Messages are presented in real time, in a way the mind can actually absorb
- Messages are scripted stereophonically to specifically address the brain's left and right hemispheres
- Effective through headphones or speakers
- Effective while working or driving

Alphasonics tapes are painstakingly created using unique custom-made state-of-the-art equipment. Because of this, they are extremely expensive to produce, which is why they cost $36 each. So why are these high-end tapes so popular? In a word, results. If a tape can really help you change your behavior, it's an extremely good deal — at $36. And Alphasonics stands behind their tapes with a one-year money-back guarantee.

The usual industry standard is a 30-day guarantee on results. Alphasonics has a full ONE-YEAR MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE — the longest in the industry. In over four years, Alphasonics has received less than 1% returns on hundreds of thousands of tapes!

Remember:

- Subliminals have been proven successful.
- Play the tape every day for 1-2 hours.
- They work even while you're otherwise occupied.
- Expect results in 3 days to 3 weeks.
- They do work during sleep, but are most effective when awake.

Dr. Tomatis on "Charging the Brain"

Alfred Tomatis is a French ear surgeon who, over the past 45 years, has pioneered a new understanding of the human ear. According to Tomatis, one of the ear's main functions is "to charge the brain."

"Charging the brain" means listening to high-frequency sounds, usually frequencies which we can neither hear nor vocalize (because "the voice can only produce what the ear can hear"). He has high praise for the healing powers of Gregorian Chant (and some of his own key discoveries arose out of medical examination of Benedictine Monks who became fatigued and listless when their normal 6-8 hours of daily chanting was eliminated from their schedule).

Tomatis' teaching rests on developing good listening skills, because he considers listening the foundation not only for speaking and musical ability, but also for visual skills, learning, motor control, and motivation. The Tomatis Method has been used with success in over 180 centers throughout the world to improve dyslexia, autism, stuttering, and depression, to enhance the talents of many professional performing artists, and to facilitate the learning of languages.

FROM ZYGON

"As I plugged it into my Walkman, I kept thinking, 'it's just a cassette tape.' Then I put on my headphones, flipped the switch, and whoosh . . . I was transported into another time and place. My body became extremely relaxed. My arms and legs felt numb. I started having long conversations with a voice inside my head, experiencing vivid memories and a flood of creative ideas. It seemed as if my mind and body were in two separate places. Words can hardly describe the experience but it was like taking a two-week vacation in 28 minutes." — Dane Spotts

What Do Zen Monks, Dolphins, and Near-Death States Have in Common?

Try these tapes and find out! Yes, these are the famous "28-minutes to Zen meditation" tapes you've heard about. While I can't guarantee they'll make an instant Buddhist monk out of you, they're likely to make you happy enough that you couldn't care less. The folks at Zygon are a genuine paradox. To say their ads are strong is to put it weakly, but regardless of the hype, their well-funded lab produces some of the best tapes we've heard! There's nothing quite like them on the market — they're simple, intelligent, excellently-produced, and they consistently draw me into a gentle and genuine feeling of euphoria! I feel good after using them, which is the best test I know.

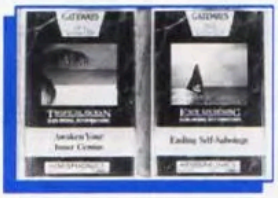
"Striking Behavioral Changes" Measured in Independent Studies!

WHOLE-BRAIN SUBLIMINALS

Truly Effective

Truly effective subliminals: a highly technical — and rare — achievement. A recent well-publicized study found that "subliminals don't work." So why do we carry these tapes? A leading research psychologist suggested that I take a close look at Dr. Eldon Taylor's subliminal audiocassettes. "I've used them myself in research, and I have been astonished at the striking behavioral changes I have measured comparing them with a placebo!" Other studies bear out his observations.



Advanced Technology

Unlike other subliminal programs, Taylor's suggestions are recorded at the threshold of audibility, conveying a single clear message. His exclusive patented technology has evolved over years of research. The affirmations, spoken in male, female and child voices, take two forms: The permissive form ("It's okay to be good") comes through the right speaker to the brain's left hemisphere, which reduces the resistance to change. The first-person authoritarian form ("I am good") comes through the left speaker to the brain's right hemisphere, but backmasked.

Results in Weeks

Dr. Taylor is a well-known authority and author of several books on subliminal information processing. All of his tape series come with substantial technical information, including a card listing all affirmations. The attitudinal and behavioral changes should begin to manifest after a few days to a week of practice, and should be quite obvious within a month.

Use Anywhere, Anytime

In Dr. Taylor's Whole Brain Hemisphonics™ programs you receive your choice of ocean environment sounds or specially selected background music compatible with the subliminal messages. These tapes can be played through speakers while you work, talk, or listen. Or, for extra effect, listen through headphones.

Subliminal Communication

Dramatic Weight Loss

1991 Research Study. Munich University Professor Rainer Pelka conducted a weight loss study using a Hemisphonic tape with 34 overweight women who had been unsuccessful with diets and exercise programs. Results: In 60 days, the women averaged a weight loss of 13 pounds, with the highest loss at 49 pounds. No other diet or exercise regimen was involved.

Whole-Brain Subliminals Reduce Stress

1990 Double-Blind Study. To evaluate Hemisphonics' effectiveness in stress management, 60 Weber State College students were tested. Results: Researchers reported a dramatic difference in psychological test scores. The group who used Hemisphonics had a much higher capacity to manage stressful stimuli.

BRAINSPEAK SUBLIMINALS™

Before he died, John-David designated his associate, Deborah DeBerry, to carry on his advanced work with sound and consciousness.

Here are two tape sets in which Ms. DeBerry brings together the powerful sound patterns developed by John-David with the subliminal technologies developed by Dr. Eldon Taylor (see page 17).

BrainSpeak Subliminals™ sets contain 2 tapes plus an affirmation/instruction card and travel case. The first tape contains inaudible messages embedded in an audible BrainSpeak sound pattern track, especially powerful when heard through headphones. The second contains the same powerful inaudible affirmations in a setting of natural environmental sounds, suitable for hearing through speakers in virtually any environment, including the car.

This excellent four-part tape set by Michael Samko, Ph.D., a student of Milton Erickson, has music and sound patterns by Dr. Jeffrey Thompson (see p. 11). It guides you through a therapeutic process of resolving deep addictive and compulsive patterns. Parts 1-4 are: Establishing a Positive Mind-Set, The Process of Transformation, Relapse Prevention, and Subliminal Reinforcement.

The Advanced Self

This guided journey by Tim Loebs uses Ericksonian hypnosis and the Hawaiian Huna spiritual system to achieve a direct experience of ultimate radiance. "In the beginning we were all thoughts or seedlings of light in the mind of that great divine power from whence we came." Take a reverse journey back to the nurturing I'O, the beginning before there was light, an ultimate, inspiring, and uplifting inner pilgrimage.
Cassette (TB507) $12.95

Angelic Music by Iasos

This is "transcendent music," meant for opening the heart, learning meditation, and "out-of-body work." Within seconds, it can create a profound sense of peace and relaxation. In research with near-death survivors, this music was rated most similar to the "heavenly music" heard by people while officially "dead." "I feel as though entering a new . . . and very profoundly beautiful world." — Buckminster Fuller
Cassette (TB502) $9.95,
CD (TB502CD) $16.95

Magic Island Relaxation for Kids

A proven relaxation aid for children aged 5-12. Using music and narration, Magic Island tells the story of a journey by hot air balloon to a magic island. It helps children learn how to breathe fully, release emotions, fall asleep, feel better when sick or hurt, and release everyday stress and upset.
Cassette (TB501) $10.00

Harmonic Brainwave Synergy

A brain-synergy tape that's universally well-liked. The sounds themselves musically evoke the sense of a dramatic inner journey, while the brain-entrainment tones intensify the meditative effect. Together, they evoke an effect that one of our friends calls "the most pleasurable audio experience I know of." A great deal of passion, care and intelligence has gone into producing this music, and it shows.

Cassette (TB101) $12.98,
CD (TB101CD) $16.98

Anti-Frantic Music by Steven Halpern, Ph.D.

Steven Halpern is probably the single most active pioneer in "new age" music. His work has always focused on the uplifting, meditational, and healing powers of music and sound. Certain of his cassette titles, listed here, most specifically act on the body-mind to create certain "states."

Higher Ground: Alpha/Theta Brainwave Entrainment Music
This tape brings together ancient sound traditions with synthesizers and binaural beats, using 8 Hz signals to "lock your human instrument into phase with the natural harmonics of the Earth."
Cassette (TB503) $9.98

Spectrum Suite
Halpern's most popular tape ever, "channelled" and confirmed by Kirlian and biofeedback studies. It explores the relationship of color, music and light to the human body, using sound to "tune the chakras". Cassette (TB504) $9.98

Crystal Suite
Halpern's most celestial and orchestral soundscape is sequenced to align and attune the chakras using pure quartz crystal bowls and synthesized sounds. Cassette (TB505) $9.98

Swirl Your Consciousness!

The famous music producer Marshall Chess is also an inner explorer who, after 10 years of making tapes for his own use, has released The Swirl. On both sides, multiple layers of binaural beat frequencies (delta-theta on Side A, and alpha-theta for Side B) are fused with continuously orbiting streams of audio information for what Michael Hutchison describes as "a quick ride out of external reality."
The Swirl (Cassette) (TM901) $14.95

Heart Zones

Designed to help facilitate a deeper heart contact with one's own self, Lew Childre's Heart Zones (says Meditation Magazine) "tunes the human body in a way similar to a piano tuner tuning a piano. It tunes your body to feel light and airy, peaceful and at one with the earth." This music is excellent for playing in the workplace to relax and energize the whole atmosphere.
Cassette (TB3170) $9.95,

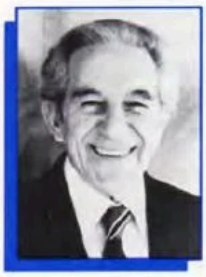
Learn Profound "Letting Go" for Happiness and Success

THE SEDONA METHOD® ON VIDEO



Are you ready to remove those limits you keep placing on yourself? The Sedona Institute's RELEASE® Technique is a simple, direct, non-dogmatic technique for being free in the present moment.

Graduates use the SEDONA METHOD for setting goals — and achieving them; for determining needs and desires — and meeting them. The proof is that your life gets better, almost immediately, in all imaginable areas, like self-esteem, prosperity, interpersonal relationships, health and well-being.

Anyone can use the RELEASE Technique, and thousands do every day. Successful business people, everyday folks, celebrities, doctors and philosophers alike have all discovered that it changes their lives for the better.

A Matter of Life and Death

Lester Levinson is the creator of the SEDONA METHOD. In 1952, after his second massive heart attack, his physicians told him he had only a short time to live.

Faced with the prospect of death, he reconsidered his whole existence. He realized that his own feelings were the cause of all his problems, and his struggle against them is what had destroyed his health and caused him to suffer in every way. He also rediscovered the inborn ability to completely discharge all his negative feelings and their many consequences. Instead of suppressing them, coping with them or venting them, he released them completely.

The more he did this, the happier and healthier he became. Within three months he was completely well — and he still is today! He attained a profound inner peace, became a millionaire, and became surrounded by honest, loving relationships.

Learning to Rediscover Freedom

By 1974, he had developed his insights into a system anyone can use to achieve peace, abundance, health, happiness and success. This is what is called the SEDONA METHOD.

Until now, the SEDONA METHOD has only been taught at two-weekend seminars at a cost of $495. Now, for the first time, it is available on videotape. When you complete the video course, you'll enjoy all the same benefits and privileges as seminar attendees — plus you'll have the video for reinforcement!

The beautiful two-volume set comes complete with 8 one-hour videos, workbooks, a chart, and easy-to-follow instructions.

From Mathematical Chaos To Auditory Ecstasy

TAPES FROM THE TAMAS LABORATORIUM

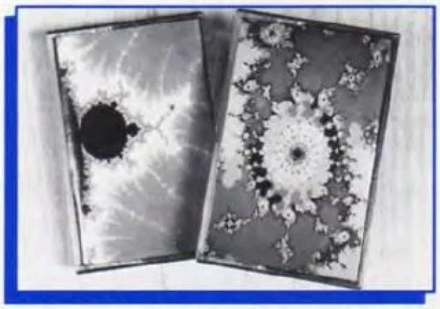
We already love to hear it. All peoples have listened to the random sounds of nature since the beginning of time. Think about it: falling rain, burning wood, howling wind . . .

Now Andrej Slawinski, founder of Tamas Labs, who began with music for experimental theatre in Germany, has created sounds so hypnotic and powerful that they've blurred the line separating the avant garde world of art from the cutting-edge world of consciousness technology.

Chaos and Fractal Geometries of Sound

Mathematical theory reveals the paradox of an orderly structure emerging from apparently random occurrences. We discover the inexhaustible intelligence of the infinite when we gaze at the undulating ripples blown across desert sands or the gently moving surface of the sea.

Tamas Labs uses mathematical systems to compute series of fractal figures that are converted into meditative musical scores, producing strangely beautiful sounds, haunting yet harmonious. Theta and delta binaural beats are added, increasing the mind-altering power of these unusual musical sounds.



Deep Psychological Effects

Tamas Labs' sounds combine repetition and chaos, resulting in a hypnotic soundscape lying somewhere between "new age music" and "computer sounds," and evoking simultaneous feelings of changelessness and perpetual growth. These sounds can be blissfully relaxing, profoundly soothing, or even subtly exciting.

Listening to the Tamas Laboratorium soundscapes draws you into a world you may have never visited, but where you'll feel right at home.

Eternal Elements: A unique sonic environment for relaxation and the release of memories. Three-dimensional natural sound recordings mingle with fractal structures to evoke an eternal domain.
2-tape set (TT201) $39.95

★ Delta Voyage / The Waves of Coincidence: Delta Voyage has been used in Tamas Laboratorium workshops for trance dance and body work. The Waves of Coincidence invites you into a very deep relaxation state in which many people have reported extraordinary inner experiences.

★ The Wheel: The melody slowly turns on itself like a voyage into the waves of breath or the ocean, creating an ideal sonic environment for deep relaxation, breath work or visualization. Side A: Theta and beta. Side B: Theta.
(TT203) $19.95

Mandala Music: A journey through the many different soundscapes of Tamas Laboratorium, based upon the idea of the mind turning inward upon itself.

What Do You Say When You Talk To Yourself?

People talk to themselves all the time, and research shows that on average, up to 77% of self-talk is negative — statements like, "I can't remember names." Or "I'm so clumsy." Or "I can't stand that." This constant negative reinforcement can hold people back in every area of life.

Well, Dr. Shad Helmstetter had an important insight: Why not retrain positive self-talk via audiotapes, repetitively reinforcing the self-talk phrases that will assist you in living the life you really want?

He wrote the bestselling book, What Do You Say When You Talk to Yourself? and he developed a wide-ranging series of audiocassettes, which are meant to be listened to frequently, even when you aren't able to pay close attention.

Helmstetter asserts (and research supports him) that the subconscious mind will act on the strongest, most frequent messages you give it. Thus the constant reinforcement you receive can gradually transform doubt, worry, low self-esteem, and depression into self-confidence, self-appreciation, and positive action.

As contrasted to subliminals, these are fully audible affirmations, simple and positive, designed to reinforce your "best" sentiments relative to a particular subject area. For example, on the tape "Stopping Procrastination" you hear many different affirmations, such as "I accept only those responsibilities which I will live up to . . . I agree to do only those things that I WILL do . . . I enjoy getting things done . . . I take the time to plan my time."

The Self-Talk Starter Set

Feel better about yourself, gain a sense of accomplishment and purpose, and create the person you want to be, starting today. Building Self-Esteem, Believing in Incredible You / Taking Control of Your Life, Setting & Reaching Goals, Visualization, Stopping Procrastination, Making Today an Incredible Day.

A Message from Michael Hutchison

Dear Friends,

Peak performance. Mastery. "Waking up." Flow. We've all experienced those times when our entire being seems to shift into a higher gear. Most of us would like to be in this heightened state as often as possible. However, as most of us have discovered, it's no easy thing to enter these peak performance domains at will.

Recent breakthroughs in neuroscience and microelectronics have allowed scientists to "map" the brain in action. The results show that peak states are clearly linked to very specific patterns of brain activity. Guided by this information, scientists are now using advanced technology to create new "mind machines" that teach us how to achieve those desired brain patterns, allowing users rapid access to peak performance brain states.

This new field of mind technology is evolving rapidly, with new tools constantly emerging. Increasingly they're marketed in splashy magazine advertisements under breathless headlines that claim "Instant Meditation!" and urge you to "Supercharge Your Brain!" and "Meditate Like a Zen Monk in 28 Minutes!" With such a profusion of claims and scads of mind machines that seem vaguely similar, yet vary in price by hundreds of dollars, you may wonder: Can these products really deliver what they claim? Which ones are best? How do I separate the facts from the hype?

The Hutchison Guide to Mind Technology is an attempt to answer these questions. I've been investigating and writing about mind machines for over ten years now — talking with scientists and inventors, sifting through published and unpublished research, spending thousands of hours exploring and experiencing all the products first-hand, observing and talking with others who use them.

This guide contains a selection of the brain machines that I have found to be the most effective. I emphasize that it's not a "complete" guide but highly selective — I have included only those that I have found to be effective, well-made, and provide excellent value for the money. Tools For Exploration and Terry Patten have given me total freedom in this selection process. I've chosen only the machines I think are the best, and I'll tell you why.

If we're going to use machines to amplify and enhance our own natural growth processes, it's important that we use quality machines and not be led down the wrong path by hype. The use of technology to enable us to draw upon a greater portion of our potential brain power may be an important step in our personal evolution. Well worth doing. So . . . worth doing well.

More light!

Michael Hutchison

How BioCircuits Can Quickly Boost Your Feeling of Well-Being and Transform Your Energy

Lie on these easy-to-use tools for only 15-30 minutes and your entire body-mind feels calmer, more peaceful and balanced. Developed in the early 20th century by L. E. Eeman, BioCircuits are based on a simple but universal principle: When certain of the body's energy centers are linked together, the body's natural energy flow is profoundly enhanced. By harmonizing this flow of life-energy in and around the body, tension and bodily stress seem relieved.

BioCircuits help you draw your body and mind into deep relaxation and refreshment. Your natural energies flow naturally into balance as you move into profound states of realignment and rejuvenation. These powerful tools for self-harmony can also be used to facilitate meditative exploration, personal growth, and inner work of almost any kind. Unlike most treatment processes, the BioCircuit puts you, the user, in charge of feeling and transforming your own natural energy. Learn to naturally:

- Relieve daily stress
- Alleviate travel fatigue
- Refresh and realign your energy
- Improve meditation and visualization
- Enjoy mid-day catnaps or deeper sleep at night
- Make other treatment modalities more effective
- Enhance your experience of audio tapes, brain machines and other tools

"BioCircuits are dynamite! They serve a wonderful purpose on so many different levels. I have set up a whole room just for using BioCircuits. The best thing about them is that they do not use any outside energy source. They are so simple, and yet so powerful!"

— Julian Jonas, Lic.Ac., Saxon's River, Vermont

THE SILK BIOCIRCUIT™

Silk is wonderful for people with extreme sensitivity, for long BioCircuit sessions, or for sleeping in circuit. It is gentler, subtler, smoother, and "higher" than the Copper BioCircuit. Excellent for meditative inner exploration and personal growth. The waves of relaxation seem to go on forever.

- Constructed according to Peter Lindemann's strict guidelines, from 100% silk together with 100% cotton
- Forms the Eeman General or Optimal Relaxation Circuit or the Lindemann Centrally Symmetrical Circuit.

"Discovering the Copper BioCircuit has enabled me to resume a process of internal energy work I had done years ago. This work had been profound and truly changed my life. But until I discovered the biocircuits I hadn't been able to continue it. This has been very freeing. Plus, they're very simple and easy to use. Thank you."
— John DeWitt, East Nassau, NY

Silk or Copper: Which is Best?

Either one, depending on your mood and reason for using the BioCircuit. Usually, Copper offers a more distinct and powerful experience, while Silk produces a longer-lasting, subtler and smoother experience. If you are undecided, start with Copper. Later, use the Silk and notice the differences for yourself. Or, try the Silver BioCircuit for an experience that combines the qualities of both Copper and Silk and adds a unique difference.

Smoother Than Copper, Stronger Than Silk

THE SILVER BIOCIRCUIT™

The experience of using these Silver BioCircuits is even more complete and satisfying than using the Copper and Silk together. Their effect is not only powerful but also very pure. Beyond that, we observe a constant flow experience, as contrasted to both Copper and Silk, in which the experience builds up and releases in a series of "waves." (Interestingly enough, these silver-plated BioCircuits [over a Copper core] suggest that the biocircuit effect takes place on the surface of the metal, rather than at its core.)

- New lower price!
- Full three-part BioCircuit (like a regular Copper BioCircuit plus an Extra Copper Segment).
- Custom-made to order. Allow 2-6 weeks.

Silver Substance Biocircuit

Due to popular demand, we now build a 3-part Silver BioCircuit with substance capacity. Custom-made. Allow 2-6 weeks.
(BT206) $225.00

Form Additional Biocircuits

EXTRA COPPER SEGMENT

With this extra copper segment, your Copper BioCircuit can also form:

- The Eeman Optimal Circuit
- The Lindemann Centrally Symmetrical Circuit

Also wonderful for linking the feet (which makes it unnecessary to cross the ankles). Package includes full instructions for both configurations plus footstraps.
(BT003) $20.00

A Word From Michael Hutchison

Biocircuits consist of flat pads usually made of copper or silk. Connected by copper or silk cables, they are said to enhance the flow or circulation of subtle energy or bioenergy throughout the body. They introduce no external electrical or magnetic energy to the body, but simply connect different parts of the body with simple copper or silk linkages.

The Copper BioCircuit system is said to produce the most powerful and easily discernable effects. An extra copper segment that links base of spine to the head, permitting the Eeman optimal circuit and other configurations, is available at extra cost. I strongly recommend that purchasers of copper biocircuits obtain this segment as well.

A recent double-blind scientific study showed that biocircuits had a variety of powerful effects, including producing states of profound relaxation. In my workshops and own personal experience, I've found that the devices seem to assist in balancing and energizing the system. They work synergistically with many of the brain machines.

— Michael Hutchison

Take it from an expert:

"In over fifteen years of professional practice as a psychologist and biofeedback specialist I have had access to a wide range of tools, including flotation tanks, bio-acoustic feedback tools, light-and-sound machines, cranial electro-stimulation, brainwave biofeedback systems, binaural beat synthesizers and tapes, and other auditory entrainment tools. During this time I have also had access to the much simpler biocircuit tool. I use it more than anything else. When I travel, I just take a pair of earplugs and my BioCircuit.

"Why? They're so easy. Also, they feel 'good for me' and the results are profound. It's that simple."

— Dr. George Fritz, noted biofeedback expert and author

We Knew It. Our Readers Knew It. Now There's Scientific Proof!

Double-Blind Study Confirms BioCircuit Effect

The conclusions are clear: BioCircuits produce objective, measurable results.

Dr. Julian Isaacs of John F. Kennedy University conducted a study using three identical-looking "biocircuit" blankets. One of the blankets was a true biocircuit, with screens and handles connected to form a copper relaxation "Supercircuit"; another blanket was an improperly-wired biocircuit, with screens and handles connected in a "tension" configuration; and the last blanket was a placebo, or "dummy" biocircuit, which looked no different from the others, but in which the screens and handles were not connected at all.

Initially Skeptical

Dr. Isaacs began the study somewhat skeptical of the merits of biocircuits, and doubtful about the likelihood of obtaining significant results. "It seemed to me that the effects produced by the biocircuits, if in fact there were any effects, would probably be extremely subtle, and perhaps too subtle to show up in our measures. Also, we ran only twelve subjects, which I knew would make it difficult to obtain statistically significant results unless the results were very strong or very consistent."

Experimental Measures

Relaxation was measured using "convergent measures": measures of relaxation were combined with subjective measures to detect experiential qualities of the biocircuit experience. Objective measures included EEG (brain wave), EMG (muscle tension), EDG (skin electrical resistance), and TEMP (finger temperature). Subjective measures were drawn from a questionnaire in which

L. E. Eeman stumbles upon one of the most important BioCircuit Tools

L. E. Eeman developed one of the most unique, important, and interesting of all BioCircuit tools, as a result of hundreds of experiments with substance biocircuitry.

The Substance BioCircuit allows you to insert any liquid solution into a biocircuitry connection via a specimen bottle. The guiding principle is a "vibrational" one: your own life-energy current flows into and through the chosen substance, and then back into your energy field, without contamination by external electrical or magnetic signals.

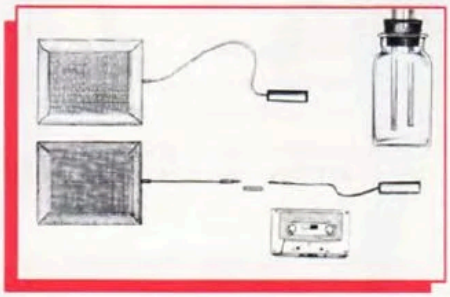
Some researchers believe that this is a supremely pure way to ingest a vibrational influence, and the body is able to accept vibrational information much more readily when it is delivered in this way.

What substances do people use? Almost any liquid or liquefied substance can be inserted in the biocircuit. Vitamin C, aspirin, one's own urine (for a less distasteful form of urine therapy), homeopathics, flower essences, herbal teas and tinctures, and food supplements have all been used with positive results. Substance biocircuitry is just in its infancy, so its applications are still being explored. Please contact us with your success stories so that we can share them with others.

Substance BioCircuit

The Substance BioCircuit: A two-part Copper BioCircuit modified to accommodate a substance bottle with stainless steel probes. By using the special connectors (included), the substance bottle can be integrated into the circuit, or bypassed when you choose to use it as a regular Copper BioCircuit.

Includes full instructions and a special audiotape with voice, music, and brain synchronization signals.
(BT004) $79.95



Substance Converter Segment

Transform your Copper BioCircuit into a Substance BioCircuit with this extra copper segment. It integrates a substance bottle with stainless steel probes into the circuit, inserting a substance bottle into the spinal connection of the Eeman Optimal Circuit.

- Add substance capability to your BioCircuit without duplicating what you already own.
- For the most convenient and flexible arrangement, combine this with the Full Copper BioCircuitry Setup.

subjects compared their experiences on each of the three "biocircuits."

Experimental Design

Twelve subjects participated in the study, each undergoing four separate trials: one with a regular undisguised copper biocircuit to familiarize them with protocol, and one with each of the three blankets. The sequence was randomized so that each blanket was used an equal number of times in the second, third, and fourth trials. To minimize effects from variations in energy level which take place during the day, each subject's sessions were conducted at the same time of day.

Results and Conclusions

The results were presented at the first annual meeting of the International Society for the Study of Subtle Energy and Energy Medicine (ISSSEEM). Here are just a few of the findings:

(1) The subjects in the real biocircuit experienced significantly more sleep, trance, and deep hypnagogic brain states.

(2) Muscles of the subjects using the real biocircuit relaxed significantly more deeply.

(3) Without knowing which "biocircuit" was real, 12 of 12 subjects identified the real biocircuit as more relaxing than the dummy.

(4) Without knowing which "biocircuit" was real, 10 of 12 subjects identified the real biocircuit as more effective than the dummy.

(5) Without knowing which "biocircuit" was real, 10 of 12 identified their experience with the real biocircuit as more extraordinary than their experience with the dummy.

(6) Significantly more subjects reported subjective sensations of warmth during their sessions when they used the real biocircuit than the dummy.

(7) The chance of obtaining these results simply by chance are less than 1 in 5000.

An additional note: Dr. Isaacs was so impressed with biocircuitry and Tools For Exploration that, several months after this independent study was completed, he agreed to join Tools For Exploration as our new Director of Research.

NEW! Awaken Within the Dream! Learn Lucid Dreaming

THE DREAMLIGHT®

"Awake within the dream" — we've heard this phrase before as a metaphor for spiritual enlightenment. But what about taking it literally — experiencing alertness and control while simultaneously remaining fully asleep and experiencing the world of dreams?

Inspiration, Growth, and Improved Performance

Users of the DreamLight® report increased frequency (or first experiences) of lucid dreams. And lucid dreaming is a breathtaking adventure. You can find out how it feels to fly, to be rich, famous or powerful, to scale the highest mountain, to visit exotic places — or other worlds! In your dreams you can fulfill your wildest fantasies. Or you can use lucid dreaming to help make your dreams come true in real life!

Besides being tremendously enjoyable, lucid dreaming is a powerful tool for learning to be your best. Go directly to the creative source of inspiration in your subconscious. Realize new ideas and solve problems. Practice and improve skills, often with dramatic results — in sports, musical performance, dancing, speaking, surgery, computer programming, and more. Face and overcome feelings that may be hampering full effectiveness and freedom elsewhere in your life.

Awe-inspiring Freedom

The flash of sudden clarity can transform a dream into a revelation. One lucid dreamer described feeling a sense of freedom "as never before." At this point, a thought presented itself with such undeniable force that he was driven to declare: "I have never been awake before."

Another lucid dreamer's experience was so intensely blissful that she was left with "a feeling of bubbling joy" that persisted for a week or more. Another lucid dreamer awoke "filled with vibrant energy . . . ready for anything." The literature surrounding lucid dreaming is filled with expressions of insight, revelation, renewal, and pleasure.

Dr. Stephen LaBerge's Discoveries

Dr. Stephen LaBerge is the world's most respected authority on lucid dreaming. His pioneering research at the Stanford Sleep Center proved the reality of the lucid dreaming phenomenon. He later went on to develop and demonstrate the learnability of lucid dreaming. LaBerge has written, "Lucid dreaming has considerable potential for promoting personal growth and self-development, enhancing self-confidence, improving mental and physical health, facilitating creative problem-solving, and helping you to progress on the path of self-mastery."

The Amazing DreamLight

Now, after years of research, Dr. LaBerge's laboratory research has produced The DreamLight — a product that can help you to enter into the world of lucid dreaming. The DreamLight is a specialized computer system that monitors your sleep, determining when you are in the REM (Rapid Eye Movement) sleep state, which is when dreaming occurs. While you are in REM, the DreamLight alerts you to notice that you are dreaming with a gentle light or sound cue, which serves as a gentle "tap on the shoulder" to alert you that "this is all just a dream." You simply wear a soft comfortable eye-mask which is connected to a Walkman-size control unit.

The product is fully programmable, so it can be adjusted several different ways to accommodate the unique patterns of each individual. It offers digital storage of 10 nights of data, permitting you to observe your sleep patterns. And it offers an expansion port with interface capability allowing connection of the DreamLight to computers and other accessories.

Books About Lucid Dreaming by Steven LaBerge, Ph.D.

These two books by lucid-dreaming pioneer Stephen LaBerge, Ph.D. (the second in collaboration with Howard Rheingold) document years of scientific research and extensive direct personal exploration of that most magical moment in consciousness, the condition which has become the most widely-used metaphor for enlightenment itself: becoming awake within the dream. The first book, Lucid Dreaming, describes the lucid dreaming phenomenon and LaBerge's pioneering research into it. The second book, Exploring the World of Lucid Dreaming, is a practical resource for the dream-explorer with detailed information on how one can learn to begin lucid dreaming and use it for growth, self-understanding and fun.

THE "OTHER 90%" OF YOUR BRAIN?

It's only 10 A.M. and already it's "one of those days." The kids wrapped their lunches in your (still unfinished) tax return; you got a speeding ticket. But mainly, you're tired.

"C'est la vie," you try telling yourself. "Don't let it get to you." But it does. Each day's like sledding uphill.

You want freedom. But not without security. You want to be fit, healthy, thinner. But no gonzo "programs" or diets please. You want . . . you want . . . and while you're wanting both, you're quickly getting neither.

The car radio starts playing the Everly Brothers' "Wake Up Little Susie."

Your shoulders relax. Suddenly, you're a kid playing ball at the park with Dad on the weekend, the Everly Brothers singing from a car in the parking lot.

You're telling him, "I just can't hit it, Dad!" Same then, same now.

But then he said, "Yes you can." He's smiling. "Just relax. Watch the ball. No need to tense up. You swing right into it."

Pretty soon, you were doing it. Incredible. It was a revelation.

A deep breath, and the present day comes back into focus. But differently. You see through it, for a change. And you notice some . . . no, a lot of new choices.

We offer advanced tools for reminding you of who you've been all along. So that you can start making your new choices now.

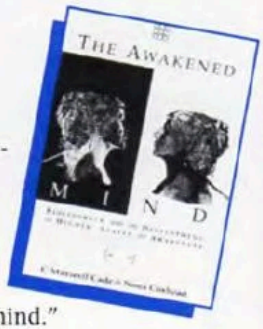
The Awakened Mind

The Awakened Mind
Biofeedback and the Development of Higher States of Awareness
by C. Maxwell Cade and Nona Coxhead



C. Maxwell Cade, a great pioneer in the study of higher states of consciousness, developed the "Mind Mirror," a full-spectrum brainwave biofeedback machine that allowed real-time observation of the activity of both hemispheres of the brain simultaneously (see page 48). This book documents his lifelong study of meditation and higher states of consciousness. As you get to know this great, sensitive explorer, you can examine his findings about states of consciousness and understand what he means by "the awakened mind."

The Awakened Mind
Audiotapes by Anna Wise

Anna Wise, the longtime personal assistant of pioneering British biofeedback researcher C. Maxwell Cade, is today's leading authority on the interpretation of Mind Mirror patterns (see page 48). She is also the leading teacher of processes for altering brainwave activity to attain such high-performance meditative brain states as the "Awakened Mind" (in which both hemispheres of the brain simultaneously produce beta, alpha and theta activity). Her audiocassettes teach people to begin to access and master the Awakened Mind brainwave pattern through a variety of easy-to-follow techniques, including deep relaxation, guided imagery, meditation and mental exercises. Binaural beat frequencies help elicit the desired states, including "the awakened mind."

Learn Zen Attention Control

OPEN FOCUS

The Zen-like practice of "Open Focus" training was developed by Dr. Les Fehmi (designer of the Brainwave Biofeedback Synchronizer and director of the Princeton Behavioral Medicine and Biofeedback Research Institute). It is, says Dr. Fehmi, "a unique exercise in the production of objectless imagery, relaxation, and the expansion of focused attention. The resultant multi-modal broadening of awareness facilitates the learning of self-control procedures of all types." Applications include training in biofeedback, stress management, pain control, and peak sports performance.

The Open Focus Handbook
by George Fritz, Ed.D., and Les Fehmi, Ph.D.

Biofeedback Tools

America's best-selling drugs (Valium, Tagamet, and Inderal) all treat aspects of stress. There's a better way to beat stress — and bring yourself more in tune with your own body: biofeedback.

Biofeedback uses electronics to make you aware of your subtle biological responses to emotions, and to help you learn to control them.

Every time the brain perceives some change, the autonomic nervous system produces immediate physical responses. Along with changes in blood pressure, heart rate, and neurochemicals, the moisture of the skin changes, and this affects its electrical conductivity: this is the famous Galvanic Skin Response, the basis of the "Lie Detector."

The Basic GSR2 Biofeedback System

The GSR meter instantly and accurately measures these changes to determine your emotional and physical arousal — a key to learning how to "feel" (and control) what is going on deep in your body and mind.

The new GSR 2 is small, attractive, and well-designed. Simply hold it in your hand — no straps or electrodes to attach — resting two fingers on the sensing plates. It turns itself on automatically at the touch of your fingertips and emits a tone. The more stress you feel, the higher the tone. Not only can you learn about your stresses and reactions, but by using relaxation techniques (learned from the included materials or other consciousness-altering devices), you'll discover how to alter the tone and relax. You can even learn to overcome phobias or stress-triggered habits (smoking, overeating, substance abuse, etc.) by visualizing your stressors and learning to keep the tone from rising. You'll find yourself gaining control of your life, and you'll find your life changing.

See also pages 68 and 77.

Basic GSR 2 Biofeedback System

The GSR 2 biofeedback unit, plus an instructional cassette on using it for positive change.
GSR 2 plus 1 cassette
(BG101) $59.95

Deluxe Biofeedback System

Stress also causes cold hands. Along with GSR, a sensitive sensor precisely monitors hand temperature (to 1/20 degree F) to provide a powerful self-awareness tool. You can choose either audio tone or visual meter biofeedback of either GSR or temperature, with reversal of direction, so you can hear either indicator as a lowering of the feedback tone. Very high customer satisfaction.

Megabrain N-A-C

New, high-quality Megabrain N-A-C replaces Megabrain Glutathione because its new ingredient, N-Acetyl L-Cysteine (N-A-C), an amino acid precursor to glutathione, has been found to be as effective as glutathione with even better bioavailability. And it costs less! So there's more protection with less expense.

Glutathione is a powerful antioxidant and detoxicant that can increase the flow of blood and oxygen to the brain. It fortifies the body's natural defenses and also apparently helps detoxify the body by "scavenging" heavy metals, alcohol, nicotine, and other toxins in the blood, organs, and cells. Although found in all cells, glutathione levels are 20-34% lower in aging cells than in young cells.

- Powerful anti-oxidant
- Supports detoxification
- Linked to enhanced cognition

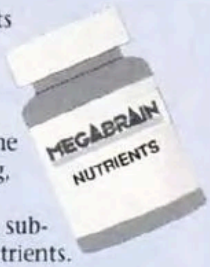
Megabrain™ Nutrients

"Today it seems very likely that the assumption that there is a basic cause of aging is correct and that the sum of the deleterious free radical reactions going on continuously throughout the cells and tissues is the aging process or a major contribution to it."

— Denham Harman, M.D., University of Nebraska



Many exciting recent scientific experiments indicate that ingesting certain non-toxic, non-prescription natural nutrients may help improve our mental functioning.

After reading in scientific journals about the dramatic results researchers were achieving, Michael Hutchison decided that somebody should draw attention to these remarkable substances. So arose the idea of Megabrain Nutrients.

- Hypoallergenic, yeast-free, & dairy-free
- Vegetable-based, free of artificial additives
- Freshly* made, cold-processed, without added preservatives
- Form, balance & potency designed for optimal uptake

Megabrain Power DMG

Many studies of athletes have shown that pangamic acid helps increase endurance, strength, and oxygen transport via the blood to the heart and the brain.

Of the variety of DMGs now on the market, we believe ours is the most pure and powerful, free of additives and fillers. Each tablet is wrapped in an individual foil packet for freshness. Dissolve it under your tongue. It works. If I take two or three tablets in times of stress, I feel a tremendous surge of mental and physical energy.

Megabrain Power DMG-125: 60 individually wrapped foil tablets of 125 mg. (FV103) $16.00

- High-purity sublingual for maximum assimilation
- Helps boost energy and combat stress
- Widely used by athletes

> ". . . DMG is a metabolic enhancer . . . it maximizes the amount of energy produced for each molecule of oxygen consumed, and stimulates both branches of the immune system. DMG is an ergogenic nutrient; that is, it helps produce energy or improved physical stamina."

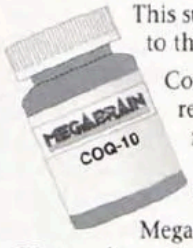
Megabrain CoQ-10



This substance is, in essence, energy: It's a vital catalyst to the creation of energy on a cellular level.

Considered by many to be a "Miracle Nutrient" as a result of research in both the US and in Japan. In fact, excitement about CoQ-10 is so strong that there are 252 CoQ-10 preparations sold in Japan by 83 companies!

Megabrain has formulated CoQ-10 tablets that contain 25 mg. of pure CoQ-10, potentiated with 250 mg. of Vitamin C.

- CoQ-10 is present in every cell in the body
- Natural CoQ levels decline with age
- Powerful anti-oxidant
- Involved with energy-generation at the cellular level
- CoQ-10 is needed to revitalize cells

Megabrain CoQ-10: 60 capsules (25 mg., + 250 mg. Vitamin C) (FV105) $19.00

> "CoQ-10 is an essential nutrient that supplies the biochemical 'spark' that creates cellular energy. Without it, various mechanisms in the body quickly begin to fail."

Light & Sound

Ancient rituals and techniques for entering heightened states often involved both rhythmic sounds — in the form of drum-beats, rattles, clapping or chanting — and flickering lights, produced by sunlight, candles, torches and bonfires.

Today, Light and Sound (L/S) machines are the most popular of the new tools. There are now well over 30 different models on the market. They all have three basic components: 1) a small, often Walkman-sized control unit, 2) goggles or eyeglass frames that position tiny lights in front of each eye, and 3) stereo headphones. The control unit is a sophisticated micro-computer that regulates the intensity and frequency of the flickering lights and rhythmic pulsing sounds. Most control units have been programmed to store a variety of "preset" sessions or programs — combinations of light and sound frequencies designed to help you reach desired states, ranging from sleep to relaxation to heightened concentration to improved learning and others. More advanced units allow the user to create his or her own programs.

Most first-time users are astonished by the kaleidoscopic stream of brilliant patterns and images produced by the flickering lights. The visions that appear can be spectacular, in unearthly hues ranging from bold primary colors to intricate landscapes of pastels. Often the images become realistic mind movies — emotionally charged and dreamlike scenes, and powerful memories from childhood. Biofeedback researcher Dr. Thomas Budzynski, who uses these machines in his practice and research, has called them "facilitators of unconscious retrieval."

How can simple lights and sounds produce such powerful results? Scientists have found that when the brain is given rhythmic stimuli, such as flashing lights, the electrical pulses of the brain (called brain waves) tend to correspond to the rhythm of the stimulus. Many of the L/S programs begin with faster frequencies, to match the beta states associated with normal waking consciousness, and then "ramp down" to progressively slower frequencies, allowing the user to move into the relaxed alpha and dreamlike theta states.

Scientific research indicates that these

Hutchison's Picks

Is there ever too much of a good thing? Hard to imagine. But for many potential purchasers of Light and Sound machines, it may seem that way. It's a bit like purchasing your first (or your next) computer — there are so many of them out there! But most buyers find that they are able to select the right machine for their purposes using virtually the same criteria as computer purchasers: size (is portability important?), cost, power, capacity for running a variety of programs, ease of operation.

I've written about a lot of L/S machines in the pages that follow. All of them are good. But not all of them are right for everybody. Specifically, some of them are best for your purposes. So I've tried here to give my picks of the L/S machines I think are best for specific purposes, at various cost levels and so on. For more information, of course, you can always call TOOLS FOR EXPLORATION. — M.H.

MasterMind 50™ & MasterMind DLS™

NEW FROM MINDSEYE

Two identical-looking systems: elegant design, exceptional quality of experiences reported, wide selection of sessions, utter simplicity of operation, all at a very low price. Plus the ability to access a whole "library" of programs.

The 50 is the ideal product for someone who's new to L/S, who wants variety plus quality and for whom every dollar counts. Or for experienced users who want a tiny portable that packs a wallop (it has 4 bright LEDs). Good value for the money. And it's upgradable.

MasterMind 50 (NM121) $229.00. See page 46.

The DLS allows you to sync the L/S experience with an audiotape, or to "download" up to 25 custom-designed sessions at a time. This opens up a whole new realm of L/S experiences. Imagine having a taped library of hundreds of different sessions, ranging from musical L/S voyages to guided visualizations, from accelerated learning or instructional programs to explorations of specific brain-states.

MasterMind DLS (NM120) $299.95. See page 46.

The MindGear PR-2

This superb mid-price range system combines the features of top-of-the-line models (binaural beats synchronized with the lights, pulse width control, independent frequencies in right and left eye, a wide range of preset sessions, plus sophisticated user programmability) with the portability, simplicity of design and user-friendly qualities of the most basic models. A favorite feature of mine: you can select goggles that use either red LEDs or white lights. Or choose one of both and explore the differences.

(NE502) $349.00.

The D.A.V.I.D. Paradise™

This (so far) is the ultimate portable machine. It's about the size of a paperback book, but packs a wealth of features — pulse width variability, independent frequencies in right and left eye, a huge variety of preset sessions, plus an enormous user-programming capacity. I think the Omniscreen goggles, which diffuse the lights, are superb. It's a premium price, but a premium machine. In fact, out of all the machines I have evaluated, this is the one that I keep choosing to keep by my bed for my own L/S sessions. (NE801) $595.00.
See page 44.

The Shaman

Here's the tool of choice for explorers of consciousness and seekers of mind-boggling experiences. Its main features, binaural beats synchronized with the flashing lights, are amped up with a dazzling array of special effects, including lights, sounds and ocean surf that all seem to swirl around your head. It's an analog device, so you can vary the frequency (and other effects) with a simple touch of the knob — I like being able to fiddle around until I find just the right spot (ah!). Other great options include the red, yellow or green goggles. The Shaman is an extraordinary value. It can also be turned into an experimenter's tool with the addition of the EEG option, which permits you to drive the machine with your own brainwaves. (AL902) $195.00. See page 43.

> "As a writer in my eighties, I have used two of the 'brain machines' Michael Hutchison describes and have found my own creativity enhanced. MEGABRAIN is important . . . and valuable for anyone who seeks to increase and preserve brain power."
> — Phyllis A. Whitney, best-selling author

MindsEye Synergizer™

Perfect for hackers who want the ultimate L/S hot rod, and for researchers who want the ultimate L/S lab device. It's got a hot new graphics user interface (you need a PC and a mouse) that allows you to "draw" incredibly complex sessions and create a soundtrack of stereo synthesizer sounds quickly and easily. Create audio-visual extravaganza sessions, and store them away in your computer. The board fits into your PC, and the goggles are superb — best on the market. If you're a computer person, this is a best bet. (NM106) $595.00. See page 46.

slower frequencies may give important benefits, ranging from relaxation to improved learning. In fact, evidence suggests that the alpha-theta frequencies may be keys to the state of mental lucidity called meditation. Studies of Zen monks have revealed that those who have meditated the longest are the ones who enter these alpha-theta states most readily, and only those who have meditated for more than 20 years are able to do so at will. So these "electronic marvels" may be extremely effective tools for learning to enter relaxed, meditative states quickly and consistently. – MH

"The Best" Portable Programmable Machine

THE D.A.V.I.D. PARADISE™

This machine is a favorite of many experienced users because it has everything: delightfully versatile programmability, wonderful goggles, and a convenient carrying case. It's even user-friendly enough for beginners. The control unit is small — about the size of a small paperback book — but it packs quite a wallop in terms of programming power.

There are 30 preset sessions, optional manual operation, and storage for up to 9 sessions you can program yourself. A digital readout shows session parameters including frequency. The excellent keypad makes the Paradise easy and pleasant to use.

Designed by David Siever, a pioneer in the mind-machine field, the D.A.V.I.D. Paradise's most unique feature is its goggles: the white lights are shielded from the eyes by a translucent screen that can color the pulses white, blue, green or yellow. This allows for a color-therapy type effect and for open-eyed use of the goggles. The Paradise can also be programmed extremely flexibly — even allowing for different frequency settings in each eye!

What You Get: Control Unit, Unique White-Light Goggles with Blue, Green and Yellow Filters, Stereo Headphones, Stereo Tape/CD Input Jack, Internal Rechargeable Batteries, an AC Adapter/Recharger, Owners' Manual, Quality Nylon Carrying Case, and a one-year warranty.

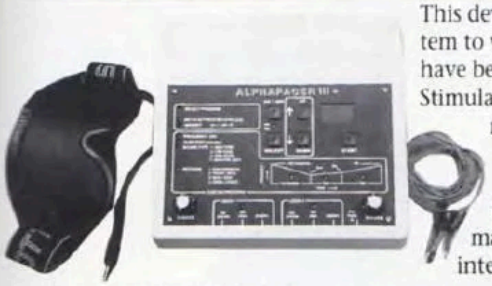
NEW! Alpha-Pacer III Plus



This device is a light/ sound system to which two other modes have been added: Electro-Stimulation (ES) and a pulsed magnetic field. There's some preliminary evidence that the combination of the four modes may have a synergistic and intensifying effect.

Create Your Own Psychoactive Tones

THE BINAURAL SIGNAL GENERATOR

Scientists have discovered that when two slightly different vibrations or sound frequencies are delivered through separate ears, instead of hearing the actual two sounds, the mind joins them together to "hear" a completely different, phantom third vibration — called "the binaural beat."

When this has happened, experimenters have measured increased levels of bilateral synchronized brainwave activity at the same frequency as the frequency differential between the two tones. Thus, binaural beats can be used to teach people how to achieve alpha or theta states of calm attention in which it is easier to learn, meditate or relax.

The Binaural Signal Generator produces two separate binaural beats, one in either the alpha or theta range, and a secondary beat in either beta or delta. It also includes an ocean surf sound synthesizer. The unit can plug into any audio system (tape deck, record player, CD) so you can combine its tones with music or other audio selections to listen to through stereo headphones or broadcast over external speakers as you wish.

- Ideal for making your own tapes
- Used widely by professionals
- Generates two pairs of tones at once
- Realistic surf sounds
- Automatically hides tones unobtrusively behind voice or music

You can select a frequency range from 1 Hz (Delta) up to 8 Hz (Alpha), combine it with a 24 Hz Beta signal (for learning increased mental alertness), and control the carrier signal (from 200 to 800 Hz). A unique patented circuitry enables the system to maintain a stable beat without further adjustment.

Better yet: you can manually adjust the volume of the binaural beat, or let a special circuit maintain the channels at a level 15 to 20 decibels below the level of the surf noise and/or music, letting you reap the benefits of inaudible binaural beats.

The product includes a switch that superimposes a 24 Hz beat on the base binaural beat, making it possible to achieve more and interesting states of consciousness. In a recent study, a binaural signal generator was found to better support the relaxed "alpha state" than actual alpha biofeedback training! And new evidence indicates that for older people, the combination of delta binaural beats with high beta beats can have an extraordinary revitalizing effect.

Intuitive Real-Time Display of the Full Brainwave Spectrum

NEW!

THE MIND MIRROR III

The Mind Mirror is almost legendary. Its unique display makes it possible to grasp a great deal of information about brainwave patterns. By rendering this information in real time, it enables users to recognize and self-regulate brain activity across a complex range of parameters — right/left hemispheric activity is broken out clearly across 7 separate frequency bands, bilaterally. (For more information on this remarkable machine, see Maxwell Cade's book The Awakened Mind and Anna Wise's Awakened Mind audiotapes on page 36.)

The new Mind Mirror III offers LCD display, automatic recording of the most recent 30 minutes of each session, and MS-DOS computer communications (in real time with optional fiberoptic cable). A separate bar graph monitors muscle tension. This compact unit comes with batteries, all leads (except optional fiberoptic computer link), electrodes, and a sturdy carrying case which holds the unit and all accessories.

The Mind Mirror III (NE610) $3,500.00
Optional Fiberoptic Cable (NE611) $595.00

For Magical "Mental Synchrony" with Your Partner

THE ALPHA MATE

You've heard of "two hearts beating as one"? When two minds synchronize, it can be an equally magical experience. The new Alpha Mate comes with a second white PVC unit and two headbands, thus allowing two people to use it simultaneously for a coordinated, mutual exercise.

You and your partner need only wear the headbands (and optionally, headphones). Three distinct audio and visual signals indicate progressively more intense levels of alpha, appropriate for any level of user, beginner or advanced.

When two people enter into alpha states while they gaze into each other's eyes, it is remarkable how intensely they can become attuned!

Pictured in color on back cover

The audio and visual displays show three different levels of alpha activity. Four meters indicate the cumulative production at each of the three levels and total, global alpha production for the session.

The Alpha Mate will also control one or two cassette recorders, playing music whenever a desired level of alpha is produced, or switching from one recorder to another.

Indicator lights show muscle tension and check sensor contacts. No gel required. Includes all equipment except cassette player(s) and headphones. One-year warranty.

The Alpha Mate (NE620) $999.95

A Tool for Exploring Your Mind

NEW!

ELECTRONIC MIND PYRAMID

You sit, eyes closed, hearing only the pleasant "chirping" of the tone indicating your strong theta brainwave activity. You feel so deeply peaceful it seems as though you are floating in the air. Suddenly your wristwatch alarm goes off; the meditation session is over. Just then, the Pyramid's pleasant indicator tone changes to a higher-pitch signature; you realize that your mental activity has shifted to alpha-dominant.

You open your eyes and see the two luminous columnar displays which show alpha activity (in green) and theta (in red). You smile, knowing that you've gained so much from this simple information about the state of your consciousness! Two meters show the precise duration (in minutes and seconds) of your alpha activity and theta activity during the past 30 minutes. Another indicator light lets you know that your muscles have not inadvertently tensed. You are using the Mind Pyramid.

Before the session, all you had to do was wet two contacts in the headband, position them across your forehead, clip a contact to your ear, and confirm proper contact via the indicator light. Setting it up took less than two minutes!

- Displays both Alpha and Theta brain activity
- Use the audio cues and/or the visual displays
- Quick to learn, simple to use
- Extremely attractive and well-built
- Optional Cassettes Controller for deep learning or suggestions

For your next session, you plan to utilize the Optional Cassettes Controller, fitted onto the base of your Mind Pyramid. It automatically controls two tape recorders. You plan to listen to your favorite relaxation tape through your headphones whenever the Mind Pyramid is reading beta or light alpha, but whenever you're in a hyper-receptive deep alpha or theta state, you'll hear a different tape (you've prepared one with helpful affirmations and information you want to memorize).

The Mind Pyramid gathers data from two frontal contacts (single-channel bipolar readings) plus reference and ground, with all contacts using either saltwater or gel. All necessary equipment is included. The Optional Cassettes Controller can be used with any two recent model cassette players and one pair of headphones (not included). One-year warranty on both units.

The Mind Pyramid (NE601) $1395.00
Optional Cassettes Controller (NE602) $450.00

STILLNESS

It's a summer morning, very early. You're ten years old, and the world is as cool and green and transparent as if it had been dipped in water.

You stand in your yard, watching the clear, new light on the tips of the leaves. For a moment, quiet is all there is. It floats under your feet and yawns warm in your belly. You've never felt so happy or so free as you do now, suddenly so still. Noticing everything. Enjoying everything.

You may never know how long it lasted.

Perhaps it was an hour. Perhaps a few seconds.

Somehow, you're changed forever. For the rest of the summer, marbles shoot truer, baseballs curve cleaner, baking bread and fallen leaves smell sharper and sweeter. Everything is simpler, richer, more balanced and more real.

Looking back, you realize you've spent most of your life trying to recapture that feeling.

In pursuit of stillness, you've meditated in great cathedrals, hiked through deserts, and fasted on mountain tops. You even visited your old neighborhood.

Now we suggest you try some of the new technological tools for inducing the stillness of alpha/theta states. They're remarkably easy to use and so effective, it's almost like being a kid on a summer morning.

The Mind Electric

We have "electric-powered" brains: all our thoughts and perceptions consist of complex networks of electrical currents and electromagnetic fields that sweep across the brain. So it makes sense that electrical stimulation of the brain can alter your mental state.

The most popular technique for electrically boosting brain power is called cranial electrotherapy stimulation (CES). Tiny battery-powered consoles generate a minute electrical current that flows through pads placed on the earlobes. Studies have indicated that such electrical currents stimulate the release of a variety of performance-boosting neurochemicals, including beta-endorphin, the body's natural pleasure chemical. Scientists speculate that electrical flows may optimize brain function by "tuning up" the electrical activity of brain cells.

CES units have long been prescribed by doctors for therapeutic reasons, including the treatment of anxiety, depression, insomnia, and chemical dependency. Many users have reported that CES can help them learn to enter a relaxed but alert state conducive to high level mental performance that may include increased memory, concentration and IQ. As a result, increasing numbers of healthy people are turning to CES machines for quick, non-drug relaxation, and as tools for "supercharging" the brain.

THE ALPHA STIM 100

The Alpha Stim is widely known for its incredible abilities to readjust the body to a normal, pain-free state, employing a current that evidence suggests is similar to that found in the body's own cellular structure. It has also shown superb results in studies of cranial electrotherapy stimulation (CES).

Improved Features, Design and Price

The Alpha Stim 100 is a major design advancement on previous, already excellent Alpha-Stim models, and its price is $100 less! Super easy-to-use controls allow one-button operation once settings are right, plus two additional frequency settings (1.5 Hz and 100 Hz) and the use of a probe for pain control. New, more precise intensity controls adjust the current from 10 to 600 microamperes.

The 100, like the CS unit it replaces, is small, but the controls are simpler, clearer and easier. The unit can still be carried in a pocket or clipped to a belt, even while in use, and comes with a carrying case. The 100 also has two channels, permitting two separate simultaneous sessions of CES and/or pain control, on one or two people.

Proven Mental Performance Gains Plus Pain Relief

Doctors who have prescribed the device, as well as patients and healthy people who have used it, have reported impressive effects, ranging from mild euphoria and heightened alertness to deep relaxation, enhanced concentration and memory, deeper sleep, alleviation of pain, and lasting feelings of well-being. Research confirms many of these benefits.

- New, improved design
- Proven effective in numerous studies
- Portable, attractive and convenient
- Unique waveform designed for maximum effectiveness

Technical Specs

The Alpha Stim 100 outputs complex randomized biphasic DC nonsinousoidal modified square pulses of 0.5, 1.5 and 100 Hz, changing polarity at 0.4 second intervals. It operates in a full biological frequency spectrum, including a very brief spike to break skin resistance. Adjustable from 10 to 600 microamperes at 9 volts. Timer settings are at 10, 20 and 60 minutes and continuous, plus a new "probe" setting — 10 seconds on and 2 seconds off, for treating points. 5-year parts and labor warranty.

The BT-6

BY DR. BOB BECK

The BT-6 is Bob Beck's redesigned and improved version of the BT-5, a product that has generated thousands of enthusiastic customers over the past eight years.

The BT-6 delivers minute levels of relaxing electrical energy to the body through electrodes placed just behind the ears. These micro-current energy pulses appear to have a profound balancing effect on the individual and tend to facilitate feelings of overall well being. Most individuals describe the experience as being very pleasant, even when feelings of high stress or anxiety have been present. The BT-6 delivers over 200 frequency harmonics in each micro-second pulse. This preferred design eliminates any guesswork as to frequency selection.

New features include:
- User-adjustable automatic shut-off timer
- Adjustable pulse modulation, including a 7.83 Hz setting
- User-adjustable pulse width modulation

All BT-6 output functions are computer-regulated, and a crystal-controller ensures reliable and precise frequencies.

The many reported benefits of the BT-6 tend to be cumulative in nature, gently unfolding over 2-3 weeks. The BT-6 is in a class by itself.

Nustar II

This small device "subliminally teaches control of meditational states by propagating an electronic signal through the brain," according to former NASA aerospace engineer and inventor Michael Hercules. "I became interested in the research revealing the many benefits of meditation," he told me, "and decided to construct a mechanical aid to help meditators overcome difficulties in reaching deep meditative states."

Hercules developed what he called the Pulstar, a box about the size of a small book, with a dial to control the intensity of the signal (in the 5 to 50 microampere range — well below the limits set by the FDA), and a frequency selector knob. Four electrodes were held against the forehead and behind the ears with a headband.

Extrapolating from his own research, Hercules recommended certain frequencies for learning specific mental states (such as 23 Hz for "centering" and relaxation; 10.5 Hz for physical healing; 7.5 Hz for focused inner awareness and creative thinking; and 6.3 Hz for accelerated learning and increased memory).

Hercules pointed out that the device produced what I have called the Bicycle Training Wheels Effect: "As a teaching device, its main purpose is to directly instruct the user how to duplicate the desired frequency at will. Once a particular frequency has been learned, the machine is no longer required."

In recent years the Pulstar has been modified, put into a smaller, more attractive and convenient package, and made available as the Nustar II, which features a selection of frequencies from 0.7 Hz to 12.5 Hz. The device is used by people in all walks of life: students who wish to improve concentration, musicians and artists seeking enhanced creativity, businesspeople who wish to reduce stress, students of meditation who want to achieve advanced states of consciousness, therapists, athletes wanting to enhance healing and mental strength, parents who need more energy and stamina.

The Nustar is small (3" x 5" x 1.75", 1.5 lbs.). It outputs a pulsed biphasic 90% duty-cycle square wave from 5-50 microamperes at 9V. Comes with 4-electrode elastic headband with velcro closure, padded travel case with shoulder strap and 2-ounce tube of conductive gel.

Sound Tables: The Ultimate Consciousness-Machines?

Whether they do it for the thrills and goose bumps or for more serious benefits, people love to "ride" these tables.

They're potent stuff, tripping the user through an overwhelming, high-impact musical experience by massaging your whole body with sound vibrations.

"Get Lost" in Music

In the '60s and '70s people didn't just "listen" to music, they "got lost in" the music, letting it overwhelm them, driving them into ecstatic, pleasurable states. These tables offer a way to experience music in much the same way, feeling it tingling your flesh and rippling up your spine.

"Profound" Experiences

Serious researchers, clinicians, hospitals and therapists use them too. They offer a deeply relaxing, pleasurable way to speak to people, including infants and young children, on an extremely emotional level. Dr. Jeffrey Thompson (see his tapes on page 11) has used such tables clinically for many years; now he is involved in making the PSI Sound Tables (see below). He points out, "A huge section of the brainstem and nervous system is devoted to sensing and processing vibration . . . So when you are lying on a sound table, powerful emotional information, in the form of musical vibrations, gets processed right in the part of the brain where our most deep-seated emotional programs reside."

Tools For Exploration can help you obtain any of the current commercially available sound tables. Below, we list very basic information on several different types. If you are seriously interested in considering the purchase of any of these products, call our toll-free number and explain the nature of your interest. We will arrange for you to be called by a manufacturer's representative who can explain the different sound tables in detail.

The Genesis

"The original" — and the inspiration for the whole phenomenon. A geometric cube octahedron frame from which a table is suspended. The bed of the table contains 6 powerful transducers which vibrate the foam bed. "Biostatic field sensors" regulate the sound so that it monitors and aids relaxation. Comes with an elaborate, high-quality audio console. Originally $56-68,000.
(NM230) Now only $25,000

The Vibrasound

A bit different, this: A waterbed-like medium conducts the sound for a super-sensual effect, while a powerful sound-and-light machine lets you see the music as swirling color patterns. Listen to music on the professional-quality audio console (included) through top-of-the-line headphones. (NM209) About $15,000

Discovery Sound Table

Enjoy the whole-body vibration massage of waterbed sound, powered efficiently by big 10" speakers — and at an affordable price! Lightweight, UPS shippable, and attractive. Just attach your own audio equipment.
(NM217) $3,400

PSI Sound Table

A fully portable table with speakers, built onto a massage table to Dr. Jeffrey Thompson's specifications. Just plug in your own sound system (RCA jack or speaker wires). Professionally built and upholstered, this is probably the most affordable way to own a sound table. The PSI tapes (see page 11) were made specifically to be used on this table. (Pictured at top of page.)
(NM234) Only $1,495 (Inquire about other PSI tables)

The Betar

Several versions exist. The most elaborate is a geodesic dome frame with a table suspended from it. Sensors supply simulated magneto feedback to the operator. Esoteric circuitry helps create "phase conjugate wave" forms. An elaborate sound console is included too. The least elaborate, the "Baby Betar," is a free-standing table with speakers which vibrate the naugahyde-covered foam bed.
(NM231) $4,200 to $45,000

The RestRider

Partially enclosed around the head, you listen via speakers instead of headphones. You're lying on a gel-filled waterbed (like a dry-floatation tank) and watching an enclosed TV too.
(NM232) About $15,000

Somatron Chairs and Tables

Perhaps there are more Somatron units in existence than all other sound tables combined. Somatron mounts small speakers into quality massage tables and reclining chairs. Deluxe models include audio console and even a cover. Full stereo separation.
(NM233) Models range from $1,200 to $6,000

Mega Machines

We recommend a number of important "mega" devices (usually costing over $1000 and sometimes over $10,000) and we provide them to customers, usually on a special-order basis. Since buyers of such expensive machines need personalized or detailed information, we do not attempt to describe them fully in our catalog.

Information packages on the following machines (with more details, including technical specifications, research papers and pricing) are available from Tools For Exploration for $5.00 each. When ordering such a package, let us know if you are interested in making a purchase and want to be contacted by a salesperson.

The Brainwave Biofeedback Synchronizer

Dr. Les Fehmi's five-channel phase-sensitive EEG computer provides auditory (and/or visual) biofeedback when all five channels show that the whole brain is in phase, or in a state of synchrony at any frequency between delta and high beta — "your own personal Zen meditation teacher."

This is a clear and easy, step-by-step guide to the construction, assembly and maintenance of an inexpensive but fully functional (and attractive) flotation tank. It includes not only a complete list of specifications and materials but gives you addresses and phone numbers of recommended suppliers and even provides some already-prepared order forms. The total cost for parts and materials for the Chrysalis float tank will run about $550, and Epsom salt will cost about $200 more, plus shipping. Paperback

"Where the Mind Meets the Body"

NEW! THE SYMMETRON™

This extraordinary machine consists of a comfortable reclining chair which moves in a gentle circular wave-like motion, rocking or "flowing" the user in an omni-directional rotation. It has a gradually tunable speed of motion, from a gentle but intoxicating "high" setting to a subtly delicious, boundary-dissolving ultra-slow motion.

Gentle motion of this kind provides vestibular stimulation and beneficial "exercise" for the balance-sense, mind and body. Readers of Megabrain learned of the Graham Potentializer, one of the most powerful mind-body tools ever devised. Sadly, its cost was well over $12,000, and it has long since ceased production. Now the Symmetron provides an improved version of the benefits of the Graham Potentializer at only a fraction of the cost.

(NM235) $3995.00 (Price subject to change. Additional charges for shipping.)

Flotation Tanks

The ultimate relaxation and mind-enhancement device. The user floats weightlessly, in total darkness, in 12 inches of body-temperature water saturated with 1000 pounds of epsom salts, producing the most profound relaxation available on this planet.

A wealth of scientific research suggests floating is also an ideal environment for activities involving creativity, accelerated learning, self-suggestion, and exploration of internal states.

We highly recommend the SAMADHI TANKS, which involve a basic and complete stand-alone system (no external water connections necessary), including pump, filter, water heater with accurate temperature control, air circulation system, and pump timer. Optional accessories include built-in transducer speakers for stereo sound while floating, a powerful ultra-violet water sterilization system (so you don't need chemicals like chlorine), a precision timer, etc. Systems start at under $4000. Other excellent systems include small "float rooms" from Tank Alternatives, a company that also consults and/or provides a kit for do-it-yourselfers, and elegant, gracefully-designed flotation systems from Floatarium.

Our Flotation Tank information package includes information about Samadhi Tanks, Tank Alternatives, and Floatarium Tanks.

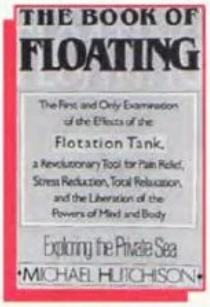
"The potential of the tank is that your old accepted tape-loops about what is real go, and you begin to have direct experiences which now teach you something you didn't know before, and this has occurred in practically every case of people who are willing to spend time in it — this doorway into your new spaces."

— Dr. John C. Lilly, neuroscientist, author of The Center of the Cyclone



The Book of Floating: Exploring the Private Sea
By Michael Hutchison

This in-depth study of the effects and uses of flotation tanks has been praised by Dr. John Lilly as "a superb book," and by Marilyn Ferguson as "a comprehensive, practical guide to a powerful technology of change." New Technology Bathes Your Eyes in Color, Helping You to "Shift Gears" into Profound Stress-Reducing States

THE STRESS SHIELD™

Gazing at color appears to have a powerful impact on human consciousness, relaxation, and the way we handle stress. People who relax for 15 minutes while gazing into a featureless green field have reported incredible improvements in their feelings of physical well-being, and in their ability to focus their minds.

The Stress Shield™ is a long-awaited breakthrough: an inexpensive, well-made product that combines the powerful properties of light and color — along with something unique! Please read on:

Gazing Into the Void

Remember descriptions of "snow-blind" arctic explorers? A German scientist in the 1930s identified this as the "ganzfeld" effect. When looking deeply into an unobstructed featureless field of light, you blank out. You don't see blankness — you "forget you have eyes." Attention turns inward, and you slip into a deeply relaxed, meditative state. Thoroughly researched, the "ganzfeld" (or undifferentiated visual field) is considered by many to be one of the most reliable techniques for entering such states of consciousness.

- Red has been correlated with increasing energy, counteracting the blues and stimulating the senses.
- Yellow seems to enhance mental/creative abilities.
- Green can be deeply relaxing, reducing anxiety and stress and supporting psychological balance.

Using the Power of Color

Why does color appear to have such dramatic influences? One theory is that certain wavelengths of light (each color is a certain frequency) are read by the light-sensitive pineal gland, a primary regulator of the whole body-mind located deep in the brain.

High-quality goggles with adjustable soft eye-cups block outside light while they envelop each eye with a uniform field. Experience Red, Green, or Yellow light, diffused across membranes much like the insides of ping pong balls.

Runs on 2 AAA batteries. Comes with stand, travel pouch, and 90-day warranty.
(LM102) $149.95

We Really Love This One!

Talk about popular! At first, Stress Shields were hard to keep in stock, simply because our staff kept taking them home. I can't remember a product that people have enjoyed so deeply and thoroughly. The "head chef" at the Mind-Tech "Cafe" recommends you try this new item for a special treat!

Also — be aware that there is more to the Stress Shield than meets the eye. At least three separate R&D teams failed to develop an effective ganzfeld. It is extremely difficult to seal out ambient light, supply an undifferentiated field of light (without "hot spots"), make it comfortable, and keep the product affordable. The Stress Shield does all that, PLUS gives you the powerful effects of colored light — and it's affordable!

- It can transform the way you feel!
- Select Green, Yellow, or Red light
- Seals out ambient light
- The best "ganzfeld" on the market
- Comfortable, collapsible, light & portable
- Includes carrying case and stand

Special: We'll include the acclaimed 253-page hardbound book, Light: Medicine of the Future by Dr. Jacob Liberman — a $22.95 value — for only $15.00 extra. The Stress Shield + Book (LM103) $164.95

Jacob Liberman on Light

Jacob Liberman, O.D., Ph.D., is a practicing optometrist and a pioneer in phototherapy techniques who has used light to improve vision, to boost the academic performance of children with learning disabilities, and to effect dramatic physical and emotional healings.

Have you recently begun hearing about light's powerful effects on human health and consciousness? It's important news. Dr. Jacob Liberman is the dynamic individual who has created so much excitement about light, and he's an ideal source of information if you're interested in learning more.

The Book:

Light: Medicine of the Future
This is the first popular book on the power of light to affect brain function and total health. It is engaging, readable, and non-technical, yet at the same time it delivers a wealth of information on the science and history of light therapy, and on the clinical documentation of the power of light and color to affect our emotions and physical health, deeply and permanently. Hardbound 253pp
(LB102) $22.95

The Tapes:

Jacob Liberman: Recorded
In each of these two superb and captivating presentations, Liberman covers similar material in a unique way. He describes light's neurophysiological effects on the human body and the therapeutic value of light and color in the treatment of a variety of physical and emotional disorders. He discusses how unresolved emotional traumas eventually manifest as addictive behaviors and physical illness. He explains how the use of light and color can act homeopathically to help these issues achieve resolution, thereby improving both emotional and physical well-being.
Jacob Liberman Videotape (VHS): 110 minutes (LV110) $29.95
Jacob Liberman Audiocassette: 90 minutes (LV111) $11.95

- A Bath of "biological electrons"
- Restore vitality while you sleep

This patented invention of Daniel Roehm, M.D., emerges from the still-controversial research of Dr. Johanna Budwig, a German physician who in 1951 identified "biological electrons" in sunlight, and concluded that they are "a source of energy our bodies can use." The Bio-Tron Projector replicates these "biological electrons" — pure, bio-available life-energy. You set the machine to point at your bed, flip the switch, and a gentle red light shines across your body as you sleep.

According to the inventor, the machine can make sleep more restful, while improving the users' levels of energy and fitness. Amazing enhancements in athletic performance have been reported by some regular users of the Bio-Tron Projector. (A competitive runner reduced his time for running the mile by 30 seconds in only a few months!)

Other Books About Light:

Health and Light
By John N. Ott

Years ago, John Ott worked for Disney Studios, doing time-lapse (speeded up) films of flowers blooming and plants growing. He discovered that certain types of light killed things, and with other types of light, living things thrived. From there he went on singlehandedly to transform modern awareness of light and its effects on living things. In this, his most popular book, Dr. Ott tells you everything you need to know about health and light.

Electro-magnetic Fields: What You Don't Know Can Hurt You

By now most people are aware of the dangers of extended exposure to electromagnetic fields (EMFs). Numerous scientists have found correlations between exposure to certain EMFs and high rates of cancer, leukemia, heart disease and much more. Even the conservative U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, usually unwilling to challenge the electric power companies, has tentatively concluded that weak EMFs are a "possible . . . cause of cancer in humans." Most homes and offices have hot spots of strong artificial electromagnetic fields, where prolonged exposure may cause mental or physical stress.

Reducing, Shielding, or Counteracting the Hazards

The most reliable way to protect yourself is to measure, identify, and avoid all fields. This is frequently impossible or impractical. Various new products attempt to reduce the undesirable characteristics of unwanted fields. Some are validated by scientific studies, some by clinical reports, and others only by scientific and theoretical speculation. Our task has been to review countless tools in this category, and to choose those we think are most legitimate, intriguing and promising.

Detect Electromagnetic Pollution Three Ways — Very Affordably!

THE TRIFIELD METER™

Did you know that the strength of potentially hazardous electromagnetic fields (EMFs) can vary dramatically from one spot to another, even in a small room? By moving a bed, desk or crib away from a "hot spot," you can greatly reduce long-term exposure to EMF.

Until recently, EMF meters cost $300 or more. When affordable ($150) meters were finally developed, they detected only magnetic fields in one direction only — so to get the measurement for any one spot, you had to patiently rotate the meter in all directions, watching it the whole time. Only the TriField measures electric fields and magnetic fields and radio and microwaves in all directions simultaneously, numerically and with a safety scale indicating SAFE/BORDERLINE/HIGH.

- A single meter measures the whole array of electromagnetic influences
- Fast, easy operation
- Unprecedented low price

Using this meter, we've discovered some unexpected hot spots (our microwave oven, for example, was blasting us as far as across the room). Walking down the street you may find intense EMF hot spots near electrical power hookups. This can definitely expand your awareness.

The Lowest Priced Portable Field Meter

MAGNETIC FIELD SCANNER

This slimline meter represents an unprecedented value! Press a button and if AC magnetic fields are present, a series of LEDs gradually light: green (at 1 milligauss) / yellow (at 2 milligauss) / orange (at 5) / red (at 15) / deep red (at 30) — indicating the intensity of the field. Like the Tri-Field, this meter reads the field in all directions. Lo-battery indicator. Includes 9V battery and instructions. One-year limited warranty.

Computer Radiation Protection Breakthrough

ELF PROTECH

The New NoRad ELF ProTech Actually Cuts Down Computer Monitor AC Magnetic Fields Below Stringent Swedish Standards!

This is the computer safety breakthrough we've all been waiting for! Until this product, I have sadly told many customers, "We sell products that effectively reduce electrical and ionic fields around your computer, but unfortunately the dangerous AC magnetic fields cannot be blocked. I know of no affordable way to reduce your exposure to AC magnetic fields without disassembling your monitor, altering it, and voiding your warranty."

Easy Proven Protection

ELF ProTech does the heretofore "impossible": it limits your exposure to ELF magnetic field emissions inexpensively and easily. Two simple, attractive bands, attached by velcro, are looped over the top and back of your monitor. Fields are attenuated in front, behind, above, and on all sides. It's designed to fit and be effective on monitors of every size and shape. For large monitors, two bands are attached to each other to form a longer band. Any computer can be treated with the appropriate number of bands, all of which are identical. The resulting reductions are typically to levels well below the benchmark level of 2.5 milligauss at the user position.

- Independent tests show up to 70% reductions of AC ELF magnetic fields surrounding VDTs
- Mounts externally to prevent voiding factory warranties and affecting computer performance
- Installs easily and quickly. No tools required
- Fits any VDT or TV monitor

Install it in minutes. Many users report feeling an immediate difference.

Blanket Your Computer with a Curtain of Negative Ions

THE SCREEN ELF™

". . . a most incredible device! Since using it, I have less fatigue, more alertness, a mild sense of well being — lightness in the air." — David Tresan, M.D.

Just set the Elf on top of your monitor and plug it in — and eliminate many computer miseries. Neutralizing the very radiation factors (positive ions and static) that cause discomfort in 75% of computer users, the Screen Elf sprays a barrier of negative ions between you and your monitor to eliminate factors that have been associated with chronic headaches, fatigue, stress, and eyestrain in many users.

The Screen Elf's unique patented pulsed plasma process blows air charged with negative ions down across your screen at 250 ft/min without a fan. This gradually changes the ionic environment in the 150-cubic-foot area in front of the monitor, so the air feels cleaner, fresher, more alive. Regular ionizers can't produce these effects without damaging your equipment.

REVOLUTIONARY!

True Whole-Room Ionization

PLASMA PULSE

Deodorize & "Super-Clean" the Air for 1 Cent/Day!

You've never seen an air cleaner like this before — we promise! New patented cold-plasma ionization technology performs true whole-room ionization — something never before possible. And Tools For Exploration is introducing this revolutionary ionizer into the United States exclusively — you can't buy it anywhere else!

What makes it better? The patented cold-plasma ionization technology creates an invisible fountain of negative ions which shoot upwards and then circulate throughout the room (or car, boat, etc.). The whole room becomes gently but evenly ionized, without the unnatural sharp voltage differentials associated with conventional ionizers. Even when touched, it does not give you a shock! It uses so little electricity (3 watts) you can operate it for less than 1 cent per day.

- Eliminates bacteria-caused odors
- Reduces pollen in the air
- Knocks down cigarette smoke & odor
- Greenhouse plants grow healthier
- No "dirty walls" near this ionizer
- No interference with car phones, computers, etc.

It cleans air three ways: (1) Air is cleaned thoroughly as it passes through the ionizer, moving at 300 feet/minute without a fan, moved only by virtually silent electrostatic action. Rinse off its foam filter periodically, like wringing out a sponge. (2) In your newly negatively-ionized environment dust simply cannot float! It falls to the floor where it can later be vacuumed or swept. (3) Simultaneously, odors are eliminated completely (not covered up), leaving the room smelling fresh and clean, like a waterfall or air swept clean by a thunderstorm.

It's a multi-purpose air-cleaner and "indoor environmental enhancer" worth far more than its modest price. We think this unit finally offers everything ionizers were "supposed to be" — all of the benefits (and more) with none of the drawbacks!

Fresh Air with Activated Oxygen

FMC AIR PURIFIERS

For returning the air in your home or business to a state of maximum "energy health" these are the most powerful air purifiers we have found. The FMC units are authentic whole-house ionizers that add oxygen (including tiny amounts of super-activated ozone) to the air. Many FMC units are recommended by doctors for ionization, pollen and dust control, but they're also effective against odors, bacteria, formaldehyde and smoke.

The FMC 330 and 440 use three separate processes: (1) An electron pulsator system emits millions of free electrons. (2) The FMC units pump out activated oxygen molecules (including ozone) which oxidize and destroy odor-causing contaminants so they can't return. This also neutralizes harmful gases like carbon monoxide and formaldehyde. (3) A long-lasting triple filtration system, involving activated charcoal, controls small airborne particles and gases.

All units run on 120V power. Whisper-quiet fan. Hand-rubbed oak or walnut cabinets. One year warranty.

The FMC 330:
Treats up to 1,500 sq. ft. 13"x9"x11".
In Walnut (FM331) $595.00

The FMC 440:
Treats up to 3,000 sq. ft. 22"x22"x12".
In Oak (FM440) or Walnut (FM441) $995.00

The FMC XR2:
No filters or ions, just oxygen/ozone. 11"x6"x6". In beige ABS plastic.

A Chinese Master's Energy — From a Machine

THE QI-GONG MACHINE

In China, Qi-Gong (pronounced "chee-gung") Masters are said to emit healing energy from their hands. When China's greatest Qi-Gong practitioners were studied scientifically, one effect stood out: the presence of a low frequency acoustic signal (called "Wai-Qi"). This machine, developed by Dr. Lu Yan Fang, produces the same infrasonic impulse. Today Chinese hospitals use this award-winning machine with thousands of patients under a wide variety of conditions.

In the United States, the Qi-Gong Machine is offered as a therapeutic massager, effective for pain relief, relaxation and improved local blood circulation. It is also used by acupuncturists as a powerful means to add "qi" to the body. Originally skeptical researchers have conducted studies showing that Qi-Gong Machine users can learn how to enhance EEG and synchronize alpha rhythms throughout the brain. Users report greater well-being, noticeably enhanced energy, clearer thinking, pain relief and a more positive outlook on life.

The Violet Ray

It's an enduring classic. Acupuncturists use it to "move the Qi," while dermatologists and cosmetologists use it for the skin and scalp. A high voltage, low amperage source of static electricity with a high frequency signal (over 10,000 cycles per second). The Violet Ray is a historically important life-energy tool, mentioned over 800 times in the Edgar Cayce readings associated with conditions ranging from baldness to poor circulation to pain.

This small, battery-operated unit (fits in pocket or purse) photostimulates the selected area on a continuous (sedating) or pulsed beam (stimulating) basis. Used by physiotherapists, acupuncturists and other health professionals.

4-Minute Energy Balancer

THE MRT BIO-ENERGIZER

We have received extremely strong response to this remarkable tool. Invented by leading-edge scientist/engineer Dr. Bob Beck (creator of the Brain Tuner), the MRT Bio-Energizer is a hand-held, battery-powered Tesla-Coil-type spark generator that directs high-frequency energies to the body through acupuncture points. It comes with instructions for an easy five-minute energy-balancing regimen.

Unlike Piezo-electric sparkers (Acu-Zapper, Acuspark, etc.), this "continuous" transmitter produces an occasional mild tingling (rather than a series of "shocks") and requires no direct electrical contact with subjects.

Technical data:

- Output is 14-20 kilovolt arc discharges plus ionized plasma at 10 pulses/second
- 1/10,000 sec. non-linear bursts with beneficial harmonics in the gigahertz frequencies
- 1½" wide, 1" thick, 8¼" long
- Uses single 1.5V "AA" cell
- Battery life: approx. 50 4-minute treatments

The Earth's Pulse in Your Pocket

THE MICROHARMONIZER™

Since the beginning of life on Earth, all living things have been bathed in the rhythmic pulsation of the Earth's natural frequency, the "Schumann Resonance" (7.83 cycles per second) — sometimes called "the brain wave of the planet."

Unfortunately, today most of us are exposed almost continually to a wide range of artificial electromagnetic signals. Some scientists believe that this "electromagnetic pollution" masks the natural, beneficial Earth Pulse. Some researchers believe that a scalar field generator pulsed near 7.83 Hz can help us counter the effects of man-made electromagnetic fields, by providing a "pacer."

The MicroHarmonizer produces a magnetic field with the pulsing rhythm of the Earth itself. It can subtly replicate the rhythmic signal of the planet.

The MicroHarmonizer is classy and convenient, with an excellent slimline case, unbreakable metal belt-clip, and easy-to-use switches. Barely larger than a wristwatch, it fits neatly in your pocket or clips to your belt. It is the only high-quality scalar signal generator with frequency-stabilized 7.83 Hz output, optional 3.91 Hz setting, and two intensity settings.

Mirror Talk?

Reversible, Variable-Speed Tape Players

Why listen to speech backwards? A new book, and a rapidly growing network of enthusiastic users, claim that each time we talk we send a profoundly revealing hidden message which can be heard distinctly when recorded speech is played backward.

At first, this sounds preposterous, but a number of scientists claim there is evidence that the subconscious mind recognizes words and short phrases in reverse.

Hidden Messages in Ordinary Speech

Upon first hearing it, people say, reverse speech sounds like a foreign language, but soon listeners pick out a word, then a phrase, and as they become proficient they hear full sentences telling otherwise hidden truths. It is being heralded as a powerful "periscope" — a direct look at what is otherwise concealed "on the other side" of conscious awareness, and a way to uncover deceit!

Obviously, this is a new theory. But for many years I have wished I could get hold of a reversible, variable-speed tape recorder on which I could listen to ordinary speech backwards. Why do so many people, including psychologists and researchers, hear meaningful messages in the garbled sound of their own reversed speech? Now we can all find out for ourselves!

High-Energy Colloidal Water

FLANAGAN CRYSTAL ENERGY®

Crystal Energy® is a liquid concentrate that, when added to other liquids, helps enhance their absorbency. This is accomplished by altering their molecular structure, thereby reducing surface tension.

Uses for Crystal Energy

Crystal Energy is used in drinking water and other beverages, especially coffee and tea. It can be used on cut flowers to maintain freshness; to rinse vegetables and fruits; to cut cooking time of many foods; to mist houseplants; to catalyze bath or spa water; to wet toothbrushes or mouthwashes; to super-wet shampoo or other hair care products. It can be used to prevent nicks while shaving.

Ground-Breaking Research

Dr. Patrick Flanagan inherited the work of Dr. Henri Coanda, who held over 500 patents pertaining to water and fluid dynamics. Dr. Coanda studied the waters of the Hunzas and of four other places on Earth associated with reports of longevity and excellent health. At the age of 77 he passed his research to Patrick Flanagan, who was then an 18-year-old electronics prodigy. After 20 years of research, Dr. Flanagan, assisted by his wife, Gael Crystal, discovered how to duplicate and concentrate the special waters which had so interested Dr. Coanda. They developed a 33-step manufacturing process utilizing the unique influences of vortex mechanics.

A Fresh, Green Blend of Enzyme-Rich Ingredients

EXHILERA: FRESH LIVING FOOD

This is a wonderful product and a great value. I recommend it highly!

For years I have been a regular user of spirulina, blue-green algae, chlorella, barley sprout juice powder, and other "green energy" products. They've provided me with a gentle, healthy, vibrant nutritional "boost" — I have always felt noticeably better and brighter when I have made them a part of my diet.

I was delighted when I encountered this green powder formulated out of spirulina, barley juice, wheat juice, lecithin and apple fiber. For me, it is by far the best "green" product I have ever used. I am amazed by how great I feel when I use it regularly.

Exhilera contains a marvelous combination of spirulina, powdered barley and wheatgrass juices, enzyme-rich sprouts, soluble fiber, lecithin and herbs. It is like drinking a super-powered salad full of life-giving nutrients every morning.

Exhilera's ingredients include:

Green Barley Juice, Soluble Apple Fiber, Hawaiian Spirulina, Green Wheat Juice, Astralagus, Milk Thistle, Ultra Pure Soya Lecithin, Enzyme Super Sprouts

And a suggested daily amount contains:

- 13,275 I.U. of Beta Carotene
- 5 mcg Vitamin B-12 (84% RDA)
- 100 mg. RNA/DNA
- 230 mg. Phosphatidylethanolamine
- 15 mg. Coenzyme Q-10 (emulsified form, 3x better absorption)
- 354,000 mcg. Phycocyanin
- 26,500 mcg. Chlorophyll
- 1,000 mg. Astralagus
- 1,000 mg. Suma
- 500 mg. Pyroglutamate
- 70 mg. Milk Thistle 80% standardized extract
- 500 mg. vegetable culture source Superoxide Dismutase/Catalase containing 3 million units of antioxidant activity (or 500 MFU & 500 BSU)

These ingredients are famous for their exceptional benefits and notorious for their unappetizing taste. One of the miracles of Exhilera is that it tastes great blended into orange, pineapple or vegetable juice. Take a single heaping tablespoon before breakfast, stirred into orange or apple juice. In fact, you can use this to wash down your morning supply of Megabrain Nutrients (see pages 38-39). Take up to 3 rounded teaspoonfuls spaced throughout the day. Exhilera is sold primarily through a network marketing organization devoted to healthy, natural products. When ordering, please indicate if you don't want to receive information about that opportunity.

THE ENERGY OF LIFE

A friend's dalmatian just had puppies. You watch them nuzzle, roll, and flop — a steamy tangle of energy so pure and fresh, they seem all eyes and electricity. When you stroke their heads, your fingers tingle.

You are astonished by the strength and immediacy of this energy — by the mystery of it, and by your sudden understanding that it pulses everywhere all the time.

At the heart of almost every philosophy and religion is an acknowledgment of this animating force, a current that moves equally through waves and planets, grasses, forests, and children.

This vitality — intense, sustaining, and pervasive as it is — has never been measured or even verified scientifically.

And yet there are scientists and engineers who have not forgotten about this energy everyone can feel but no one can measure. They risk the ridicule of colleagues to work on this awesome riddle, this miraculous life-force, trying to understand it, explain it, and make it more freely available to those who need it.

We offer several admittedly unscientific products whose nature and effects we can't fully explain. We do know that some of them seem to enliven, brighten, or set free the sustaining radiance of things.

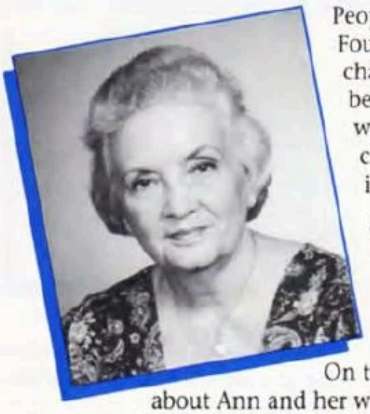
Pure Subtle Energy

TRANSPARENT ENERGY PRODUCTS



People swear by the work of Ann Johnson of The Ensearch Foundation. Her work began with spiritual inspiration — channelled instructions for creating the tools described below. They are clear acrylic tubular vials which encase water, inert gases and, primarily, energy. Each has been charged — permanently — with a different energetic imprint.

She has written, "You do not have to understand it to experience its benefits any more than you need to understand electricity to utilize and benefit from it." Good. I don't. So this rationally oriented catalog offers these products as "research tools."

On the other hand, I feel very good, intuitively speaking, about Ann and her work, and our customers have given us such an overwhelming, enthusiastic response to the products from Ensearch that they've eased any initial skittishness about a product so unabashedly "far out." I have personally used both the Lithium Generator and Fantazia. Was it just coincidence that I had rather dramatic experiences exactly like those Ann predicts when using her products?

The Harmonizer
The Harmonizer is precisely formulated and constructed for maximum healing potency. It is said to have a 10-foot-radius energy field that transmutes most undesirable energies. Its greatest power is released through water. Immerse it in drinking water or a drawn bath. Change the energy in a room with an open bowl of treated water.

The Harmonizer
(1½" energized vial with pouch)
(PP804) $40.00

The Harmonizer Wand
(7" Harmonizer for stirring convenience)
(PP805) $60.00

Fantazia
Ensearch calls it "our first and foremost product." Fantazia and Water of Life (below) are the only Ensearch products that you actually drink. Fantazia is designed to increase light within you, and to help purify negative influences from virtually any source. It is usually used one time only for continuing benefits. 4 ounces.
(PP800) $40.00

Water of Life
Drink Water of Life in three equal four-ounce amounts at bedtime once a week to help open dormant intuitive faculties, and to cancel out any unnatural energy patterns placed in your body without your permission. 12 ounces.
(PP811) $100.00

Lithium Generator
Lithium is the element that carries light and information. Twice daily, drop this 1¾" vial into a glass of water, then drink the water. For a "recharge" when you need it, to combat a sagging spirit, or to even out the cycling of moods.
(PP806) $50.00

The Master Pack
Contains The Vitalizer and The Tranquilizer (two ¾" x 4" acrylic tubes) in a dual pouch. Carry it on your person "for immeasurable protection and comfort," and use either whenever you wish. The Vitalizer removes the blockages that are restricting your flow of life-force. Hold it in your hand for 15 minutes to create a blockage-free protective sphere around you. The sensitive individual can feel the pulsation of the energy from The Vitalizer almost immediately. The Tranquilizer transmutes energy (as opposed to enhancing or creating it). The purpose is to neutralize the conditions created by stress. You do not feel its energy until it manifests itself as a calming effect and you begin to feel more relaxed.
The Master Pack (PP801) $80.00

NEW PRODUCTS

Color Balance
A ¾" x 3" acrylic vial to place in drinking water. Create rainbow light and balance the colors within your energy body, overcoming any negative reactions you may tend to have to particular colors. A joyful and uplifting experience. Each vial becomes individualized.

This 3/4" x 3" vial contains the same energetic imprint; it can be added to water for drinking or bathing. Enjoy!
(PP815) $50.00

Rejuvenation
Allows your subtle energies to flow in a less dense, lighter spiral configuration. You are permeated with an energy force that can open you to dimensions beyond the physical.

Coherent Alignment of the Energy Body NEW!

TACHYON ENERGY PRODUCTS

Tachyon energy products are new, having been imported into the U.S. from Japan for a little over a year. Used by many celebrities, including professional athletes, these products contain a powerful, bright energy, which sensitive people can feel almost immediately.

The Mystery of Tachyon

The manufacturers state that a technological breakthrough has enabled them to create materials which are "at the quantum level" uniquely orderly ("anti-entropic") and which strongly promote order and coherence in their immediate vicinity. They compare it with an "antenna" picking up "the balance signal" of universal "tachyon" energy.

What results are small crystal-like tachyon beads, tachyon water, and platinum tachyon fibers resembling fiberglas. When I first encountered Tachyon products, I held a bottle of beads to my forehead, trying to feel their effect. I immediately experienced a powerful sensation of bright ascending subtle energy. However, I was initially offended by their "high" price (the bottle cost $400.00).

Unique Energetic Properties

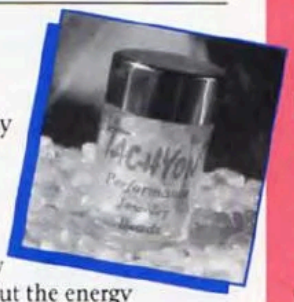
In the ensuing months I have been won over by several factors. Glowing testimonials about their unique powers have come from some surprising quarters (some otherwise very "straight" rational scientists) as well as highly-qualified sensitives. The consensus is that these beads are unique — they cannot be compared with any other subtle energy product — and they work on a very deep, profound level. Additionally, there has been a significant price reduction (a jar of beads is now only $270).

Tachyon?

Tachyon comes from the Greek word "tachy" meaning acceleration. The name refers to sub-atomic particles which travel faster than the speed of light.

Tachyon energy is described as an "etheric" or "subtle" energy. According to its creators, tachyon energy differs from the energy associated with crystals and magnets, because it is a "zero-point" energy, with no specific polarity or frequency, and can be applied to the entire multi-dimensional energy spectrum.

The Tachyon Energy Products focus the tachyon energy that is ambient in the universe. This catalyzes a "self-alignment of our energies on every level — a change which can often be felt profoundly."



Tachyon Beads
The heart of the Tachyon concept. By placing them on designated energy or meridian points you may experience more harmony and order throughout the energy system. Pictured in color on back cover.

Magic and Science

I'm sometimes asked, "Why does this catalog mix scientific and highly unconventional 'magical' products? On one hand, you feature a comprehensive selection of tools based on cutting-edge scientific research, and on the other, you have an array of far-out items that would never be taken seriously in scientific circles. What are your criteria?"

I believe it's very important to know the difference between science and "magic." Measurable repeatable effects should never be confused with subjective anecdotal reports. Much of the "new age" is handicapped by a failure to understand the importance of these distinctions.

Making distinctions doesn't require us to reject everything unscientific. Most rigorous scientists personally hold religious or other unscientific beliefs. Many mysteries remain unexplained by our scientific models of reality. So there's room to learn — and explore.

Therefore, we offer a full range of the world's best and most interesting tools — even some so non-rational that at first they appeared silly to me. But take a look — I believe all the tools included here are worthy of consideration.

That's why this catalog is a wide-ranging resource, sometimes scientific, and sometimes dealing with "unseen" energies, unconventional science, or, occasionally, spirit itself.

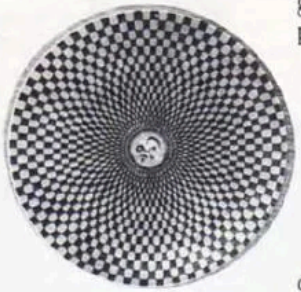
Clear the Vibrational Patterns of Your Environment

THE POLARIZER

Rarely do products engender such overwhelming and consistent positive feedback from customers as the Polarizer products. Everybody seems to love them! Glowing word-of-mouth reports persuaded me to add them to our catalog. Over a year later, I'm very glad I did.

They were created by Jim Gibson, who describes the Polarizer as "a complex antenna system which absorbs, realigns, concentrates and reradiates an infinitely broad spectrum of wavelengths, protecting us from electromagnetic pollution and amplifying the auras of biological systems by clearing interference." Applied kinesiologists consistently test the Polarizer as a product which returns us from a weak response to a "strong" one. Applied either to yourself or to your electrical system, the effects can register when you do kinesiological testing on a human being.



The Polarizer products contain several powerful elements, including a small "Lahkovsky Coil" — coils of metal wire used by the inventor of the Multi-Wave Oscillator in his famous experiments on geranium plants. (Lahkovsky created severe stress in a group of geranium plants, and then changed the energy environment of half of the plants by surrounding them with his coils. Those not surrounded by the coils weakened and died, but those in the coils thrived.) Even though we don't pretend to understand how the Polarizer products work, this catalog wouldn't be complete without them. People want results, and they don't care if they come from "science" or "magic." By whatever process, the consensus about the Polarizer seems unequivocal.

Both types of polarizers come with complete instructions.

The Polarizer Cone:
Place it on an electrical wire to broadcast harmonious vibrations through-out your car or building via the whole wiring system. Only one cone is needed per car, house, or office. (PP851) $75.00

The Polarizer Disc:
Carry this pocket-sized polarizer in your energy field or use it on your chakras, acupuncture points, ears, hands or feet. (PP852) $15.00

Mysterious Purple Power

PURPLE POSITIVE ENERGY PLATES

Just hold one in your hands, close your eyes and feel. Most people agree: something's going on — and that perception only seems to increase over time. Is it advanced subtle energy science? Is it all suggestion and placebo? Is it spiritualism? Magic?

These are anodized purple aluminum plates whose molecular (crystalline?) structure is supposedly permanently altered in a way designed to radiate positive energy. Placed under drinks like a coaster, or on refrigerator shelves, they're supposed to revitalize food. Placed under the mattress or worn around the neck, they're supposed to enhance the energy flow.

After three weeks of use, our General Manager, Byron Mandel, credited the plates with a huge jump in his energy level. I tried one next, hanging a plate from my neck in the cotton "kangaroo pouch" (described below), and found that every day I wore it was an immensely positive, productive, happy day.

Although I couldn't understand his explanation of how they work, I found the plates' creator, Ralph Bergstresser, to be a sincere, service-oriented man who deeply believes in his product. The purple plates are available here for your own experimentation.

Positive Energy Plates come in two sizes:

Small Plate (4½" x 2¾"). Used like a coaster to revitalize drinks or for wearing on the body. (PP750) $10.00

Large Plate (12" x 12"). Used on refrigerator shelves or under the mattress. (PP751) $30.00

Neck Bags for Purple Plates
Cotton "kangaroo pouch" for wearing a small Purple Plate from the neck. (PP753) $4.50

"First and foremost, the plates will slowly but surely raise the vibratory frequency of those who use them, and that's of prime importance. They will reduce the negative vibrations in food, water, other liquids and tobacco."

Synchronicity

A computerization of the ancient Chinese book of wisdom, the I Ching. The New Inquisition
By Robert Anton Wilson

We live in an age in which the official religion denies that it is a religion at all — it is "Objective Fact."

The "citadel of science" is, according to Wilson, best understood by comparing it to the rigid "official religions" of past eras. Thus viewed, we discover a rigid rationalistic dogma, which conveys power and control to its intolerant and irrational priesthood. Beyond this, today's scientific community is the arena for increasingly commonplace repression of "deviant" thought and intimidation of "deviant" thinkers. In the place of this scientistic dogma, Wilson suggests a "new agnosticism" in which science begins with questions, the intention to understand, and a disposition of humanistic and existential openness.

BY DAN MILLMAN

These days I start every day with this exercise routine. It's nearly miraculous, because in a mere 4-10 minutes, I am able to stretch and invigorate my whole body. Whether I am also hiking, biking, running, or doing other exercises during the day, I never skip this unique, excellent routine.

Simple is powerful: In this 45-minute video, Dan Millman, world champion gymnast and author of the bestselling book of practical spiritual insight, The Way of the Peaceful Warrior, teaches a unique, 4-minute routine of movement, deep breathing and tension release designed to help you to:

- Clear negative energies from physical, emotional and mental levels
- Release old patterns of moving and thinking
- Restore natural elasticity and ease of movement
- Increase feelings of inner strength, confidence, and commitment
- Amplify energy, alertness and optimism

This "warrior workout" is the same routine Dan does personally every day of the year. It combines elements of hatha yoga, martial arts, gymnastics, dance, and fitness training into one easy-to-learn routine. A great way to start any day.

Tibetan "Secret" Exercises

THE FIVE RITES OF REJUVENATION

• 15 Minutes/Day to Fresh Energy

Over 50 years ago, a retired British army officer who had recently returned from Tibet conducted a private class. In Tibet he had seen whole monasteries whose monks enjoyed remarkable health, persistent youth, and astounding longevity, and he had been privileged to be taught their "secret." The subject of his private class was a simple routine of five exercises, which can be performed in less than 15 minutes. They are supposed to balance all the chakras and realign the energy system. I have done these exercises for almost five years with great pleasure and great benefit. They are simple, quick, thoroughly enjoyable, and they make a huge difference in how I feel overall. Highly recommended.

Color Your World

COLOR THERAPY EYEWEAR

Put on a pair of these impact resistant color glasses, and — Wow! — the whole environment dramatically changes color. You may not believe how quickly you enter a different world.

The fastest and easiest way to channel colors into your body is through your eyes, via colored lenses. Wear them during normal activities and receive a dose of whatever color stimulation you desire.

Or wear them as 21st-century fashion eyewear (mindful of how each color affects you). Nothing more dynamically expresses your energy and appearance than these vivid colors — and nothing else affects you quite the way color does either!

Some color experts recommend wearing clothes of certain colors (depending on your color "type") or shining lights of certain colors on your body. But almost all these experts agree that the most efficient way to absorb color is through the eyes.

This affordable set of 7 colored glasses includes Violet, Indigo, Blue, Green, Yellow, Orange and Red. You'll have a full rainbow spectrum to choose from, along with basic information on the ways these colors have been used historically. We recommend also obtaining books on light and color so that you can get the most out of your color glasses. (Light: Medicine of the Future [p. 54] and The Power of Color [p. 55] are both excellent.)

Color Therapy Eyeware

Clip-On Version (LC002) $79.95

Guardian of Your Energy Field

THE BIOELECTRIC SHIELD

In appearance, it's an attractive silver pendant. Inside are quartz and other crystals, precision-cut and arranged in a pattern so that they interact with and normalize your natural energy field.

Unnatural environmental energies affect us at a subtle, unseen level. You probably know that quartz crystals are used to regulate oscillations and increase the precision of watches and electronic components. The bioelectric shield operates by this same principle, but it is tuned to regulate your natural energy field.

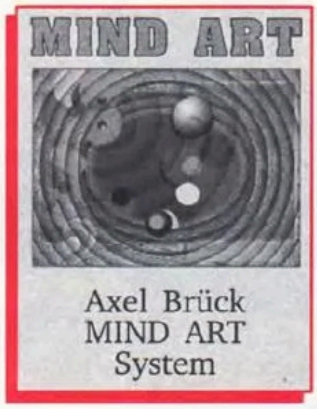
When we evaluate new products we share them with a "focus group" of sensitive individuals. Sometimes their behavior says more than their words: the evaluators liked the Bioelectric Shields so much ("great energy . . . and very attractive") that they wouldn't return them. With purple cord.

The Bioelectric Shield (EB001) $95.00
Optional Silver Chain (EB002) $25.00

Boldly Original Mind Technology

NEW!

AXEL BRUCK'S "MIND ART" SOFTWARE & VIDEOS



It took ten years and $3 million to develop Axel Bruck's revolutionary videos and software. They use colors, sounds, shapes, and rhythmic changes to alter consciousness in ways previously unheard-of outside of Germany!

Created in part by using EEG biofeedback-feedforward loops combined with highly sophisticated video programs, these tapes and programs represent a boldly original and highly sophisticated technology for facilitating shifts in consciousness. Colorful geometric patterns dance rhythmically as tones sound, drawing you into very specific mental states, such as Zen-like focused relaxation.

Bruck recommends you sit formally to meditate when you watch the videos or use the software. Respect it and use it consciously, and then . . . discover the results!

The Software:

The Network of Breath
Control the images while they change your state. Generate chains of associations which can go on unbroken for up to an hour. Use for self-reflection or psychological therapy. An example of the kind of software used to create the Mind Videos below. Requires 80386 IBM type computer with VGA graphics.
5¼" & 3½" disks. Requires DOS 4.0 or above.
(SB601) $250.00

The Videos:

Labile Equilibrium: Relaxation Training
Provoke a Zen-like state of focused, relaxed awareness. A foundation for meditative clarity. 45 minutes VHS
(VB001) $39.95

Deep Blue Focus
A unique pattern of mind video images from Axel Bruck, designed to help make the viewer sleepy. No need for formal meditative attention for this one. Way better than David Letterman. During tests in Germany, 90% of viewers were asleep after 20 minutes of viewing. 60 minutes VHS
(VB002) $49.95

Power Games — For Children and Adults
Help dampen aggressiveness in children without blunting concentration or learning. Tested with 400 children with good results. For adults, this helps you feel "friendly" toward the world, reactivating creative energies. My personal favorite. 3 programs. 45 minutes VHS
(VB003) $39.95

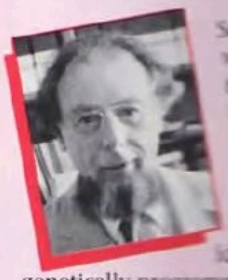
Sentics: The Touch of Emotions

BY DR. MANFRED CLYNES



Sentics is a system which correlates touch and emotion. For every emotion, Dr. Manfred Clynes, the creator of Sentics, has identified a unique genetically programmed brain and nervous system pattern which expresses itself in all our senses and movements. His system can be explored via regular use of his Sentic Cycle program, in which you systematically get in touch (literally) with the full range of your emotions, as they are expressed by the subtle qualities of your physical movements — specifically, the way you use your finger to touch. With the Sentic Cycles process you train yourself to handle emotions better, including "letting go" at both deep and subtle levels, resulting in profound serenity and calm. Sentics Paperback. 249pp (ST201) $10.95
